TONS OF TROUBLE

Loaded with raw sugar, en route from Australia to Auckland, New Zealand, the British freighter Hudson Point ran into an 80-knot gale. A derrick boom broke, toppled ventilator pipes, allowing tons of water to pour in the forward hold. Making it to the port of Whangaroa, the ship's pumps went to work. Photo was taken as ship neared port today. (AP Wirephoto)

Birthday Trip On Boat Ends With Five Dead, Two Missing

14-Foot Craft Found Off Tiburon Shore

Bodies of three boys and two women, all from San Francisco, were found floating in the bay near Tiburon this morning and two men were missing and presumed drowned in the tragic ending of a boat trip which was a birthday present for one of the children.

The Coast Guard also found the 14-foot outboard motor boat into which the seven had been crowded, with only the bow above water.

The boys were identified as Salvador Sorro Jr., of 801 Holloway Street, who was celebrating his 11th birthday, and Jason Brouwer, 5, and Kenneth Brouwer, 7, of 733 Paralta Street. The women were Mrs. Gloria Brouwer, 37, mother of two of the boys, and Mrs. Gloria Lechuga, 25, of El Amigo Hotel.

Missing were Salvador Sorro, 32, of 1222 Clayton Street, father of the 11-year-old boy, and Hank Lechuga, also of El Amigo Hotel.

Mrs. Sorro, who was separated from her husband, said the boy had gone with her husband for a fishing and water skiing trip but were expected back about 6 p.m. yesterday.

NOT RETURNED

Joe Nerviani of Joe's Boat Launching in Santa Venetia telephoned the sheriff's office this morning to report Sorro's car was still at the dock and the boat had not returned. He said Sorro had told him he had planned to head to McNear's Beach.

Mrs. Sorro said her son and husband knew how to swim, but the Brouwer children did not.

The first two bodies were found near Angel Island, one by persons in a private boat and the other by the Coast Guard cutter Magnolia, about 9:30 a.m.

SHALLOW WATER

Later a Coast Guard helicopter crew saw bodies of a woman and boy floating in shallow water south of the Tiburon Navy Net Depot.

The other woman's body was found a quarter mile south of Red Rock shortly before noon.

The bodies were all taken to the San Francisco Coast Guard station at Fisherman's Wharf for identification.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the boat probably was flooded by large waves when the wind changed suddenly in mid-afternoon.

Several of the bodies had life preservers, the Coast Guard reported.

The boat had a 40-horsepower motor.

The last fatal marine accident in Marin County waters occurred April 24, when a 14-foot boat with twin outboards rammed the pilings in the dark at the Spinnaker Restaurant in Sausalito, killing James W. Lee of Sausalito.

If none of the seven aboard survived, the mishap will be the biggest single accident in years. Six persons died and a 12-year-old boy survived when a boat tipped in Bodega Bay last Nov. 25.

FELON, 37, ESCAPES FROM SAN QUENTIN

Goes Over Nine-Foot Chain Link Fence At Minimum Security Ranch

Law enforcement officers today reached a blank wall in their search for Jesse James Gilbert, a convicted murderer who escaped from the minimum security ranch at San Quentin Prison Saturday night.

"We haven't had a word, not even a rumor," said Associate Warden Dale B. Frady.

Gilbert, also known as "Skinny," is described as dangerous and possibly armed with a knife.

The 37-year-old escapee has been a convict for most of his adult life.

He escaped over a nine-foot chain link fence after leaving a roll of blankets in his dormitory bed to simulate a body. He was reported missing at the 10:45 p.m. bedcheck.

Gilbert was sentenced to San Quentin in 1961 for second degree burglary in Los Angeles, to serve a term of one to 15 years. He was placed on the ranch June 20 to work in the sewage disposal plant.

Gilbert was first sent to the prison by the California Youth Authority in 1946 after a second degree burglary conviction in Orange County. The next year he was convicted of second degree murder for stabbing a fellow inmate.

Later he was transferred to Folsom Prison where he was again accused of stabbing an inmate in 1952. He was paroled in 1957.

Frady said Gilbert had very little mail and few visitors during his term at San Quentin, and no known "home" area.

Gilbert is 5 foot 9, 140 pounds with receding brown hair and brown eyes. He left prison wearing blue work clothes.

The California Highway Patrol said Gilbert might be driving a stolen car. Greenbrae contractor Donald D. Davis reported his 1963 white Cadillac coupe taken from his garage at 2 Almenar Drive between 10:30 p.m. Saturday and 1 a.m. yesterday.

The prison's escape report carried a succinct commentary on the life of Jesse James Gilbert, which has been spent mostly behind bars: "Occupation: None."

Test Ban Treaty Appears On Way

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet sources said today a working party put finishing touches this morning on an East-West treaty banning nuclear tests in the air, outer space, and under water.

U. S. negotiator W. Averell Harriman was expected to initial it today or tomorrow and return to Washington Wednesday, sources in Washington said.

Unless Premier Nikita Khrushchev comes up with a last-minute hurdle, diplomats here regarded the treaty as virtually completed.

Harriman, Britain's Lord Hailsham and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko met in the afternoon.

The meetings were resumed after a weekend break in an atmosphere of mounting optimism.

Western sources here indicated that only a last-minute obstacle—such as a Soviet demand for an accompanying nonaggression pact — could block a U. S.-British-Soviet accord to ban nuclear tests in the atmosphere, outer space and under water.

Harriman had an excellent opportunity last night to sound out Khrushchev on any last minute roadblocks.

Together they sat through a U. S.-Soviet track meet narrowly won by the American men and easily won by the Russian women.

After the meet, Khrushchev invited Harriman and U. S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler into a reception room attached to the premier's Lenin Stadium box.

The hour-long surprise meeting, like all the rest of the talks, was secret. But it was the best opportunity Harriman has had to urge the U. S. contention that such matters as a nonaggression pact between the NATO allies and the Communist nations of Eastern Europe should be deferred.

As the talks moved into their second week hints continued from the Soviet side that a nonaggression pact must accompany the test ban accord. But neither Khrushchev nor Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko has said a test ban will be blocked unless accompanied by a nonaggression pact.

The West has long favored a treaty barring all but underground nuclear tests to avoid the impasse over on-site inspection. Both sides agree tests made above ground and under water can be detected without on-site inspection.

The West opposes a formal nonaggression pact, chiefly because it would permanently divide Germany and at least imply Western recognition of Communist East Germany.

Ross Teener Beaten Up A Week Ago

A gang assault on a Ross youth as he was walking home on a residential street early on July 13 came to light today.

Victim was Steven Hoxie, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoxie of Laurel Grove Avenue. His jaw was dislocated and fractured in two places in the assault.

Police Chief Joseph Regoni, who had made no previous report of the assault, said today it is still under investigation.

The assault was reported to Ross police early on July 13 by Bill Noyes, 16, son of Dr. and Mrs. Chester B. Noyes of 119 Hill Drive, Kentfield. He and the Hoxie boy were walking home from a movie in San Rafael, he said, and had just turned into Laurel Grove Avenue when a red 1957 Ford convertible with three youths inside pulled up.

The three occupants of the car jumped out and started for the two boys. Young Noyes hid behind some shrubbery. Young Hoxie was knocked down and his jaw broken. He was unable to fight back because his right arm was in a sling, having been broken in an accident at home, his mother reported.

The three youths then climbed back into the car and drove away. Young Noyes ran to the police station to report the assault.

Chief Regoni, asked why no report had been made at the time, said: "We don't like to say anything about these things while they are still under investigation, because often after we find who is responsible, the parents refuse to prosecute."

He cited another recent case in which two stitches were required to close a wound in the head of a 16-year-old Ross boy. The boy's parents refused to prosecute the assailant, another 16-year-old, the chief said.

Berkeley Campus Has Red Speaker

BERKELEY (AP) — The first Communist to speak on the University of California campus here in 13 years said today the late Pope John XXIII was "one of the most remarkable figures of our time.

Albert J. Lima, Northern California chairman of the Communist Party, praised the late pope's "Peace on Earth" encyclical and said the pontiff understood the principle of "two diametrically opposite social systems striving to resolve international disputes without resort to war."

Liston, Patterson Weigh In At Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston weighed 215½ pounds and challenger Floyd Patterson 194½ for their return title fight tonight.

Liston had a 25-pound weight advantage—214 to 189—when he won the title by knocking out Patterson in 2:06 of the first round at Chicago last Sept. 25.

Mill Valley Boys Missing All Night

Two Mill Valley boys, 7 and 9 years old, returned home safely today after being missing since yesterday afternoon.

The boys, Wilson Paul Armstrong, 7, and John Howeth Armstrong, 9, were reported missing at 2:30 a.m. today by their mother, Mrs. William Armstrong of 117 Cornelia Avenue. She told Mill Valley police they left home about 10 a.m. yesterday.

Mrs. Armstrong said the boys might have started for Bolinas to visit the home of their grandfather, Dr. Wilson P. Goddard. However, Dr. Goddard is on vacation and the home is vacant.

About 9 a.m. today, they returned. Mrs. Armstrong notified police but gave no details of the return.

Boy, 17, Drowns In Kings River

FRESNO (AP)—A star athlete at Tulare High School drowned yesterday while attempting to ford the swift and swollen waters of the South Fork of the Kings River in the Sierra.

He was 17-year-old Hubert Pfaff.

Golden Gate Approach Proposal Is Criticized

SACRAMENTO (AP) — San Francisco Supervisor William C. Blake today accused the State Highway Commission of using a proposed widening of a Golden Gate Bridge approach "as a wedge" to force his city to accept more state freeways.

"We aren't going to approve any more freeways in San Francisco until we make some studies," he told the commission. He called existing freeways, including the Embarcadero Freeway, "scars on the city."

Blake's statement was made as he asked the commission to widen the San Francisco approach to the Golden Gate Bridge.

The widening project has been stymied by its involvement in a dispute between the supervisors and the commission.

The commission last month told the supervisors the state will not spend 5.1 million dollars to widen the approach unless the city agrees to a freeway link between the Golden Gate and San Francisco Bay bridges.

The route was rejected by the supervisors in 1959 when they halted work on most freeways in the city in a "freeway revolt."

State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack reiterated that the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads refuses to allocate federal interstate highways funds to the project unless it is a part of a "through route."

Womack said the state had planned on the federal government paying up to 92 per cent of the cost.

Dan London, a director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, told the commission it should remove the approach from the interstate system and build it entirely with state funds.

Chairman John Erreca said it was up to the San Francisco supervisors to tell the commission if they want it removed. He indicated "it may be delayed a bit" if it is.

Commissioner Abraham Kofman suggested that the San Francisco and the bridge and highway district replace the federal money if the project is stricken from the federal system.

Kennedy Asks ICC Take Over In Rail Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy, seeking to fend off a strike, proposed today that the interstate commerce commission take over the bitter, four-year railroad work rules dispute as a way of preserving collective bargaining.

The White House announced that legislation was submitted this afternoon would ask Congress to let the ICC, a regulatory agency, handle the labor-management dispute for "prompt hearing and disposition."

One government source said the ICC would have two years to hear the case and make a determination, thus postponing the threat of a nationwide rail strike that could cripple the economy. Use of the ICC to settle a labor dispute would be unprecedented, a commission spokesman said.

Several Republicans in Congress said Kennedy's proposal amounted to compulsory arbitration "under another name." But the White House announcement said it was not.

'Miss Universe' Has First Dance

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"Miss Universe," shy 18-year-old Ieda Maria Vargas of Brazil, had her first date for her coronation ball—a thronged formal affair with all the trappings of royalty.

Vargas

Wearing her jeweled crown and a white floor-length ball gown, the black-haired Miss Universe acknowledged her 1,000 well-wishers last night with a polite "Thank you," the only English she knows.

Her first dance in public—"in my whole life I think"—was with actor Dana Andrews.

The actor, seated at the head table, escorted the 5-foot-6 Miss Universe to the floor where an orchestra waited to play the "First Dance, the Dance of Miss Universe." Ieda's escort, Luis Menezes, 20, didn't show up in time, so Andrews took over.

"I'm a lousy dancer," he said afterward. Andrews speaks no Portuguese and Ieda speaks no English. "You might say it was awkward," said the actor, in Miami for a play.

Ieda won her title Saturday night over 15 finalists.

Actor Tracy 'Feeling Better'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Spencer Tracy was reported improving today from an attack of lung congestion suffered as he was going on a picnic with actress Katharine Hepburn.

Tracy, 63, was stricken yesterday in front of Miss Hepburn's Malibu Beach home.

An ambulance took him to St. Vincent Hospital where his physician, Dr. Karl Lewis, said Tracy was suffering from a congestive lung condition.

Miss Hepburn called the fire department for a resuscitator when Tracy was taken ill. She told the dispatcher the actor had suffered a heart attack. Dr. Lewis said later that was incorrect.

Death On Boat

QUEBEC (AP)—Rescue crews continued to search today for the bodies of 15 victims of the collision Saturday of an ore carrier and a freighter.

It was the worst maritime disaster in the St. Lawrence River since 1914, when the Empress of Ireland sank with the loss of more than 1,000 lives.

Apparently 33 men—31 Chinese, a Canadian and a Briton—from the 12,863-ton British ore boat Tritonica were killed.

The Tritonica sank eight minutes after the collision 45 miles northeast of Quebec with the 6,000-ton British freighter Roonagh Head in a fog.

Showers In U.S.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

More showers splashed across scattered sections of the nation today after another outbreak of severe thunderstorms in parts of the Midwest and Southwest.

Nearly four inches of rain drenched Chicago and suburbs and in Hammond, Ind., the airport estimated rainfall at between 5 and 7 inches.

Several sailboats were capsized in Lake Michigan in Chicago and Milwaukee during the storm.

Cardinal Dies

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Valerio Cardinal Valeri, prefect of the Vatican Congregation of Religious died today in his apartment in the Palace of the Holy Office.

The Italian cardinal, 79, was stricken with a grave throat infection earlier this month.

50 Dead In Storm

PAHALGAM, Kashmir (AP)—A cloudburst struck this picturesque holiday resort Saturday night and unofficial reports said 50 persons may have died.

The deluge washed away parts of two hotels and some tents on the banks of the Ladir River. Many persons were injured. Official sources said there were no foreign tourists in the resort.

Actors Wed

NEW YORK (AP)—Film actor Robert Wagner and actress Marion Marshall were marrier yesterday by State Supreme Court Justice Joseph A. Brust.

Wagner was divorced from actress Natalia Wood last year. His bride previously was married to Allen Davey and to Stanley Donen.

The couple left for Los Angeles shortly after the ceremony.

Ward On Trial

LONDON (AP)—The crown put Dr. Stephen Ward on trial before a jury of 11 men and a woman today and accused him of keeping pretty girls as sex pets for hire to men.

Christine Keeler, wearing a gold suit, was the first witness for the prosecution. The red-haired party girl's relationships with a British Cabinet minister and a Soviet Embassy aide came near to toppling Prime Minister Macmillan's Conservative government.

As she had done before, Miss Keeler denied a prosecution claim that she ever went to bed with the 50-year-old society osteopath. But she said it was with a man introduced by Ward that she first committed an act of prostitution.

Christian Unity

MONTREAL (AP) — A Roman Catholic cardinal joined Protestant and Orthodox church leaders in a historic public prayer last night calling for Christian unity.

The presence of Paul-Emile Cardinal Leger at a special service of the Fourth World Conference on Faith and Order marked the first time that a ranking Roman Catholic clergyman had attended a World Council of Churches meeting.

Cardinal Leger said he realized the road to Christian unity may be long but "a common bond of fellowship draws us together in spite of our divisions."

Italy Beginning To Round Up Members Of Dread Mafia

By BENNETT M. BOLTON

ROME (AP)—A grieving Sicilian woman whose family was wiped out by Mafia vengeance finally said "basta"—enough.

Because she did, 29 "Mafiosi" (Mafia members) are now accused in nine of 600 murders blamed on the Mafia since 1945. The shotgun blasts that killed Rosa Messina's husband and five sons ripped away the fear that had long stilled her tongue.

For the first time in a century and a half cracks are begzinning to open in the solid wall of silence that has shielded the dread Mafia secret society from the law.

The Messina case is typical of many pressures that may eventually spell the doom of Sicily's so-called "Honorable Society."

Word is out in the rugged hill country around Palermo in Sicily's northwest coast that the "gaddu Cairisi" (Cairo roosters) have begun one of the biggest "cuvari" (nestings) of all time. This is Mafia underworld lingo meaning that police patrols have taken to the bush in one of the most determined anti-Mafia drives ever.

Why is there so much expectation that this time the Mafia may be shaken to the ground, when thousands of Benito Mussolini's troops could do nothing in a similar campaign almost 40 years ago?

Part of the answer is to be found in the slaughter of seven policemen, blown to pieces June 30 in a booby-trapped car. They were investigating a similar time-bomb blast that killed two workmen the day before in a Palermo suburb.

The deaths shocked the Italian nation. They launched a mass police roundup of suspected Mafia henchmen, with hundreds bagged so far. It prodded Parliament in Rome to move faster in a special commission investigating the Mafia. It gave Italian newspapers incentive to publish photos of wanted Mafiosi and to write article after article against the primitive Mafia code of protection. The Mafia provides this protection in exchange for special considerations, with death and violence for those who get in the way, back out, or talk.

But the broader answer is seen in changing attitudes of the crowded Island at Italy's tip, where Palermo is the Mafia's headquarters.

The Siciliani are beginning to see the world outside. Television and the new prosperity on the Italian mainland are showing them it is possible for people to live peaceful, private lives without being forever tied to a web of fear, extortion and murder.

For years the people of Sivily, under the long tradition of Mafia intrigue, accepted their lot as a state of necessity—cooperate with the Mafia and live, or cross the Mafia and die.

But the current revulsion has trickled down to the Sicilian peasant. At last people like Mrs. Messina are willing to break the code of "omerta" (silence or death) and name names.

The Mafia was born of desperate need on Sicily. The Mediterranean island has known at least 16 conquerors in 2,000 years. The secret society was the Sicilians' warlord-rulers.

The Mafia took care of its own and visited death upon rapacious outlanders. But the violent nature of the Mafia's activities led to extortion, blackmail, ransom, and murder through vendetta — the vengeance killing that cuts down any or all in the family of an offender.

For generations the Sicilian looked to the Mafia as his hope for the future. It was the "honorable Society" and for many it will always be. No one opens a bar or a shoe store around Palermo without permission. No farmer's acreage prospers unless the Mafia gives its okay. For the entrepreneur that means "wetting the beak" — paying his secret taxes to the Mafia.

No prison or fortress is too strong, no foreign land too distant for the Mafia to catch up with those who break its rules.

A Socialist deputy from Sicily said 153 persons from his home town alone had been slain by the Mafia in the past 20 years.

"A democratic state cannot tolerate that any longer," he added.

The parliamentary investigation, with every Italian political party in support, is developing a two-pronged approach.

One plan is to draft immediate emergency measures to hunt out the Mafia itself. The other is a long-range program to overcome the "state of necessity" by bulldozing the ground that allows the Mafia to flourish — poverty, ignorance, superstition — through a flood of economic, educational and social aid for the lethargic regions of Sicily.

The Mafia is also said to exist in the United States, exported during the great wave of Sicilian immigration at the turn of the century and nurtured in Chicago, St. Louis and New York during the Roaring Twenties.

Italian law enforcement officials scoff at the idea, however. For years they have been watching 500 men, deported to their native Sicily from the United States as undesirables or as illegally entered aliens, and they say they have never been able to link them with international dope and crime.

Russia, China Parley Ends In Bitterness

MOSCOW (AP)—Red China and the Soviet Union say they have agreed to meet—"some time later"—and make another try at settling their bitter ideological dispute. Diplomats in Moscow did not expect the meeting would be held soon.

The announcement, made simultaneously yesterday in Peking and Moscow, coincided with a new Chinese attack on the Soviet Communist party. Peking accused it of trying to incite the Chinese people and party against Mao Tse-tung.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Soviet-Chinese talks broke off Saturday. Premier Nikita Khrushchev took his first public notice of the Chinese delegation, giving it a farewell dinner.

The communique yesterday said the central committees of both Communist parties would set the place and time of the next meeting.

It reported that during the talks both sides "expounded their own views and stand on a series of important questions of principle concerning contemporary world developments, the international Communist movement and Sino-Soviet relations."

Western quarters interpreted this to mean Chinese spokesman Teng Hsiao-ping and Soviet theoretician Mikhail Suslov did little more since the meetings began July 5 than lecture each other.

POWER STRUGGLE

Khrushchev is expected to defend his stand and outline his strategy in the Communist power struggle at a meeting of East European Communist leaders opening in Moscow Wednesday.

Ostensibly, the meeting of the Council for Mutual Economic Assistance Comecon—the Communist counterpart to the European Common Market—will be to discuss economic plans.

CIVIL RIGHTS FIGHT BEFORE GOVERNORS

Southerners Split Off, Democrats Disagree With Tactics Of GOP

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The 55th annual governors' conference, buffeted by presidential campaign politics, looks the civil rights issue in the face today, with what appears to be a civil war on its hands.

Almost every state executive except those from south of the Mason and Dixon line was in favor of registering himself for racial equality in all things. But there was sharp disagreement between Democrats and Republicans — and between Democrats and Democrats and Republicans and Republicans—about how to go about it.

All this added up to the kind of confusion usually associated with a national party convention and not with the staid yearly meeting of governors to discuss such issues as how to get more money out of Washington for various programs without giving up additional authority to the federal government.

The point at issue at the opening business session was this:

Would the conference encounter, in an effort of some of its members to get approval of a civil rights program akin to President John F. Kennedy's, the same kind of Dixie filibuster with which it wound up in a shambles last year?

Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, bursting with aspirations for his party's 1964 presidential nomination, was sponsoring such a resolution.

Democratic Gov. John Dempsey of Connecticut, smarting under Rockefeller's charges that the Democrats were trying to institute a gag rule, outlined a proposal under which the conference would abolish individual resolutions and consider only committee reports which could be adopted by a two-thirds majority.

Republican governors had their own substitute, drafted by Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon. Hatfield is regarded as a vice presidential nomination possibility if Rockefeller or some other Easterner heads his party's 1964 ticket. This substitute would permit the conference to take up any proposal which had been approved by its resolutions committee and approve it by a two-thirds majority.

The marriage rate in the United States in 1962 was 8.5 per 1,000 persons.

ROCKET MOTOR BLAST

Exhaust flames surge 200 feet from the nozzle of a 250-ton solid-propellant rocket motor in a static test at the United Technology Test Center at Coyote, in Santa Clara County. The motor, tested last Saturday, is believed to be the largest solid-propellan rocket ever fired, and produced a peak thrust of one million pounds. Two of the 75-foot tall rockets will make up the first stage of the Air Force Titan III-C space booster. (UPI photo)

Execution Date Is Set For Bean

RENO (AP) — Thomas Lee Bean 18-year-old convicted slayer of former Olympic skier Sonya McCaskie, was sentenced today to die in the Nevada gas chamber the week of Sept. 23.

Dist. Judge Grant L. Bowen set the date after turning down a request for a new trial by Harry D. Anderson, Bean's attorney.

Anderson said after the 15-minute sentencing hearing that Bean had apparently attempted suicide again last week—by hanging himself with a garrote.

It was a garrote fashioned from hay baling twine that choked off the life of the 24-year-old Miss McCaskie, a pretty blonde native Scot, April 5 in her Reno apartment. Her body was dismembered.

Bean was convicted of first degree murder by a district court jury of eight men and four women July 8. The jury ordered the death penalty.

The judge asked Bean if he had any reason why he should not be sentenced today.

"No sir, I do not," Bean replied.

Lester E. Morford III, 19, of Santa Rosa, Calif., is also scheduled to die in the Nevada gas chamber that week. Morford's execution, in the slaying of an Oregon man, was ordered by a three-judge panel Friday.

Anderson said he would talk with Bean before filing an appeal. Bean has said he wanted to appeal. Anderson has 60 days to appeal.

As during the trial, Bean showed no emotion. He smiled at one point after the hearing ended.

Sheriff C. W. (Bud) Young said officers found a garrote Saturday in Bean's cell. He said Bean had been making it by braiding together pieces torn from his mattress.

"We don't know whether he was going to try to hang himself or try to get one of the guards as he walked by," Young said.

Ex-Marine Is Arrested As Forger

A former San Anselmo resident, on life parole for murder, was booked at the Marin County Jail yesterday on forgery charges.

The suspect, Donald John Arceo, 28, was held on $5,250 bail. He was arrested in New Jersey on a warrant from San Anselmo police by Belvedere Police Chief William Woodington, who was visiting the east.

Arceo is charged with issuing a series of checks totaling $299 to the United Market in San Anselmo, with insufficient funds.

Police said he used the names D. John Arceo, Vincent Bianco, Ricardo Orsini, and Ricardo Marsina.

He was traced to Detroit and finally New Jersey. Chief Woodington was requested to extradite the suspect because he was in the East, San Anselmo police reported.

Arceo had been convicted of a double slaying in Southern California, police said.

Banker Whitney Is Dead At 77

NEW YORK (AP) — George Whitney, former head of the J. P. Morgan banking firm, died today in Doctors Hospital. He was 77.

At his death, he was chairman of the Directors Advisory Council of the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York.

During the 40 years he was active in the Morgan banking enterprises, he played a prominent role in national and international finance.

Born in Boston, Whitney was graduated from Harvard College in 1907. He entered the banking field that year in the employ of Kidder, Peabody and Co. of Boston.

STUDENT, 14, GETS READY FOR COLLEGE

MOUNT CARROLL, Ill (AP) —When Tamara Moat starts freshman studies at Shimer College in September, she'll be only 14 years old.

Donald G. Reuter, vice president of Shimer, a school of just over 300 students, said yesterday Miss Moat, of Tinicum Township near Easton, upper Bucks County, Pa., is 14 now. He said he believes no college has a student that young.

Miss Moat is being admitted under Shimer's early entrance program which provides for acceptance of students with less than four years of high school who demonstrate by college entrance examinations that they can handle college level work.

Reuter said Miss Moat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grenville T. Moat, has completed two years at Palisades High School near Easton.

Portable Television, Binoculars Stolen

A shortwave radio, a portable television set and a pair of binoculars were reported stolen Saturday from a boat at Lowrie Yacht Harbor at the foot of Third Street in San Rafael.

Dorothy M. Vedell of Redwood City, owner of the boat, a 42-foot yacht called the Judy Carol VI, said the theft could have taken place any time since July 7. The door of the cabin was not forced, but was found standing open when sheriff's deputies arrived.

Wounded Rattler Bites Woman In Mill Valley

A wounded rattlesnake bit a Mill Valley woman Saturday afternoon while she was gardening in her backyard.

The victim, Mrs. Genevieve Earl, 48, of 524 Throckmorton Avenue was reported in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital. She was bitten on her left ankle.

Mill Valley police said Mrs. Earl apparently stepped on the two-foot-long snake shortly after 2 p.m. She felt something jab her ankle, and called her husband, Robert.

He ran from the house, carried her indoors, used a razor blade to make cuts across the wound, and applied a suction cup from a first aid kit. A doctor later gave Mrs. Earl some anti-venom serum and she was taken to the hospital.

"The snake looked as though it may have been run over by a car," said Mill Valley police Sgt. William Walsh. "That was probably why it bit the first thing that moved."

The rattler was later found among bushes in the Earl yard by patrolman Jerry Harman. He killed it with a garden hoe.

Walsh said it has been "about three years since we've had any reports of rattlers in the city, but they probably turn up often up in the hills."

Mount Tamalpais State Park ranger Willard Hanselman said that in the eight years he has been in the area he has seen five rattlesnakes.

"But they're like gold," he said. "They're where you find them. A few years ago, a dog in Stinson Beach was killed by one, and a rattler turned up in the city of San Rafael a year or so ago.

"This is the first time, though, that I've heard of a person being bitten by one around here."

Marin Wool Growers To Get $30 Incentive

Marin County wool growers will receive $30 federal incentive payment for every $100 received from sale of wool in the marketing year which ended March 31, Alfred Bianchi, chairman of the Marin County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said today.

The payment compares with $44.50 per $100 paid last year through the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Bolinas Unit Goes Into Sanitation

The Bolinas Public Utility District board discussed sewage disposal with representatives of the Regional Water Pollution Control Board Friday night, but took no action.

"The meeting was strictly informational," said Sherman R. Smith, board chairman.

Under discussion was the proposal to have a survey to determine the feasibility of forming a sanitary district covering Stinson Beach and Bolinas.

San Rafael Furniture Firm Moving

Mobilia of Denmark will move from 1417 Fourth Street, San Rafael, to the present location of Elite Foods about Aug. 15, it was announced today.

The Danish furniture store, established in San Rafael in August, 1960, will take over the building at the southeast corner of Fourth and D streets. Elite is in the process of selling out its stock and fixtures.

Albert Grimm, manager of Mobilia, said extensive remodeling is due to begin at the site about Aug. 1. He said it will give the firm approximately twice as much floor space as it has now.

Kenneth A. Crawford, proprietor of Elite Foods for the past 13 years, said he believes all merchandise will be sold by the end of the week, enabling him to turn over the premises for remodeling by July 31.

He has no plans at this time for reopening at another location and expects to take a three-month vacation before deciding on his future course of action.

Lee Nibbi, who has handled the meat department, is now employed at the Country Kitchen in the Northgate Shopping Center.

New Space Station May Be Needed

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (UPI)— Scientists here are working on a big space problem that will have to be met after man lands on the moon.

After Project Appollo — the moon landing now scheduled for around 1967—serious consideration is being given to orbiting a space station around the earth as a laboratory and a stepping off platform for manned probes into deep space.

To carry men, food and equipment, "space shuttles" would zip back and forth between the earth and the orbiting station.

Docking these "space shuttles" on a platform that is itself rocketing at speeds up to 18,000 miles per hour is one of the most complex problems to be solved.

To perfect techniques of the intricate docking maneuver, General Electric engineers at the Valley Forge Space Technology Center have built a jet-propelled, land-based "space shuttle" that simulates a landing on an orbiting vehicle. The simulator is built to carry two astronauts plus supplies, weighs 1,000 pounds is 7½ feet high and 5 feet wide.

The supporting structure is mounted on air cushions—metal discs constructed so that air is expelled at supersonic velocities below them—causing the simulator to lift off the floor. This creates a frictionless environment and is a close approximation of the state of weightlessness beyond the earth's atmosphere.

Test pilots operating the device can pitch, roll, twist and yaw the vehicle as they go through rendezvous, approach and connection to a space station docking port. The shuttle pilot "flies" the simulator by using two hand controls that govern gas jets, enabling him to keep his vehicle balanced as he practices a docking maneuver.

The shuttle also can be operated remotely, to simulate a supply mission in which the vehicle would be unmanned and controlled by a pilot in the space station where it would be docked to deliver its cargo.

From research conducted on the Manned Docking Simulator, the GE space experts will gather information applicable to design of such shuttles. This would cover direction and speed of the supply vehicle in making the docking, fuel consumption and the time and relative difficulty astronauts will have in carrying out the docking and undocking maneuvers.

Tanny's Gym Loses Barbells

Vic Tanny's Gym and Health Club at 823 Fourth Street, San Rafael, closed because of financial difficulties, has been visited by Kilroy, police said today.

Police Inspector Richard Camper and District Attorney's Investigator William Bemiss, entering the club Thursday with a key, found five barbells, valued at $75, were missing from the rack.

On the manager's desk was the following note:

"Kilroy was here. Lock it next time. We took five barbells. Ha! Thanks for the fan."

Neither of the investigators knew what the word "fan" referred to.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed sharply lower today in active trading.

It was the 14th straight "Blue Monday" for the Dow Jones industrial average.

Rails were down sharply following President John F. Kennedy's proposals to have the Interstate Commerce Commission settle the rail labor dispute. Union Pacific and Northern Pacific fell more than a point each.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3.5 million shares compared with 3.36 million Friday.

Motorist Says He Was Stopped, Cut With Knives

Eric Hinze Black, 19, of 10 Layton Court, Mill Valley, told Mill Valley police today that he was the victim of a "knife attack by four or five young men" early yesterday.

Black was treated at Marin General Hospital for two superficial cuts on his face. He told police he was driving on Miller Avenue near Evergreen Avenue at 12:30 a.m. when he was forced off the road by a car. Several youths stepped out of the car, he said, and attacked him.

After slashing his face, they began kicking him, Black said.

The youths departed and Black drove to the hospital for treatment. He told police he could not identify his attackers.

Santa Cruz Has Ancient Train

FELTON (UPI) — The ancient steam locomotive Dixiana Shay with its four 1880-styled passenger cars puffs from the station hourly on the nation's newest—yet oldest—railroad.

It is the roaring Camp and Big Trees Narrow Gauge Railroad (RC&BTNGRR) and it carries excursionists through the redwood groves of Santa Cruz County, about 70 miles south of San Francisco. Its maiden passenger-paying run was made on Palm Sunday this year.

Eventually, the road will curve more than three and one-half miles from its starting terminal, then back on itself, on a round trip to the top of Bear Mountain.

The locomotive is a genuine steam boiler, made in Lima, Ohio, in 1912 for the Smoky Mountain Railroad in Tennessee. It was purchased by the RB&BTNGRR in Virginia where it had served on a now abandoned railroad out of Dixiana.

The coaches, built by H. A. Pulaski, Inc., of Irwindale, Calif., were used in the 1880s on the narrow gauge Nevada-California-Oregon Railroad along the eastern slopes of the Sierra Nevada.

The rails were made in the same years for the long gone Carson and Colorado Railway. They originally came around the Horn on a sailing ship. The roadbed is laid on hand-split ties.

"We want to bring the romance and color of steam railroading back to America," said railroad president F. Norman Clark. "It is our intention to give Americans the opportunity actually to participate in their heritage, not just to read about it."

Girl, 7, Is Injured As Bicycle, Car Collide

Rosanne Remington, 7, of 311 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo, suffered multiple bruises at 5:15 p.m. Saturday when her bicycle collided with a pickup truck on Laurel Avenue near Hillsdale Avenue.

Raymond A. Blanquie of 99 Hillside Avenue, driver of the pickup, told San Anselmo police he was westbound on Laurel when Rosanne came down a hill and collided with his truck. She was treated at Marin General Hospital.

How America's workers save while buying a share in their country

Almost $40 million in U.S. Savings Bonds are purchased automatically every week through the Payroll Savings Plan by America's wage earners.

This is not a recent development. Members of organized labor have supported the Savings Bond Program since it began 20 years ago. That's because so many of them have found the Payroll Savings Plan a painless way to achieve their dreams—a new home, a happier retirement, education for the youngsters and a better life for the whole family.

A workable plan for those "payday frustrations"

All you have to do to start on the plan is sign up once with your employer. He sets aside whatever amount you say, buys your Bonds and delivers them to you—automatically.

The result is you save some money every payday before you get a chance to spend it. And soon you don't even miss the amount that's set aside for you.

Invest with absolutely no risk

You can't lose the money you invest in Series E Savings Bonds. The Government guarantees it to grow 33⅓% in 7¾ years. You can get your money with interest at any time. And if your Bonds are destroyed, you get new ones free.

Every Bond you buy is a step toward a secure personal future. What's more, every Bond is a share in a stronger America. Why not begin buying your shares today?

American Labor heartily endorses the Savings Bond Program!

George Meany, President, AFL-CIO, says: "In these critical times, the safest investment for any American, and especially American workers, is United States Savings Bonds. At the same time Bond purchases help keep America strong and free."

George E. Leighty, Chairman, Railway Labor Executives Association, says: "The most efficient and best respected workers are those who have formed the habit of saving regularly. There is no better way to do this than by buying U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan."

Thomas Kennedy, President, The United Mine Workers of America, says: "Labor is glad to lend its support to the Savings Bond Program of the Treasury Department. This easy method of saving has made it possible for millions of wage earners to build up financial reserves."

You save more than money with

A METER THAT'S MIGHTY HARD TO BEAT

Activator strip on pavement (indicated by arrow) makes this anti-meter-cheater a trap for the overtime parker who likes to keep putting nickels into the meter all day. As car wheel passes over the strip, mechanism is actuated which will accept only five cents (a nickel or five pennies), then lock the meter. There's no way to get the second hour except by driving the car away and returning —the reverse roll of the wheel unlocking the device. Fifteen of these have been placed at various locations in downtown San Rafael on 30-day trial by Traffic Controls, Inc. This one is in front of Macy's on Fourth Street. Driving car into the parking space is Mrs. Alice Blanch.

Falling Bombs Linked To Spare Parts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three practice bombs wrenched loose from racks made out of spare parts and fell from Navy attack planes on the San Francisco Bay area, an ordnance man told a Naval board of inquiry yesterday.

One bomb became known to thousands last Friday noon when it fell with such force on Market street that it bounced over a five-story building.

How the scores who missed getting hit by that felt about it was said best by Naval Lt. R. A. Kiner, of Anaheim, when he heard the bomb fell from his plane:

"Thank God nobody was hurt."

He was called today to appear before the board which got testimony Sunday of two other bombs which apparently fell in San Francisco Bay.

"Seven or eight racks made from accumulated spare parts at Los Alamitos" Naval air station have been used on planes flying over the Bay Area in the last week, testified Chief Petty Officer Donald J. Jones. He was aviation ordnance chief for Kiner's squadron.

"We just can't get replacements," Jones said in explaining why spare parts were used.

He blamed the accidental release of the bomb from Kiner's plane on a faulty latch and said Kiner had no idea what happened.

Jones said several of the latching mechanisms were worn badly.

Lt. Cmdr. Victor G. Mottarella told the board he flew on Thursday the same plane Kiner flew Friday and it accidentally dropped a dummy bomb into the bay.

Marin Band Program Chosen In Good Form

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Saturday night's summer concert of the College of Marin Community Band under the direction of John H. Meyers attracted a large family-type audience that nearly filled Olney Hall.

Well chosen for just such an audience and a summer evening was the program of good, light music, and the band of some 46 instruments was in good form.

Though all instruments contributed fully to the total effect, the seven-trumpet section was so outstandingly good that it was almost a little too noticeable in the ensemble. This was partly due to the excellence of its leader, Don Millmore, who was also a fine soloist in the "Noctourne for Trumpet and Band," by Whitney. His smooth legato in the blues-like theme and long-sustained notes in crescendo were a test of his disciplined control.

Also earning individual honors was the student conductor, William Nelson, who led the band in a vigorous performance of Sousa's "High School Cadets March." Myers is to be commended for giving students such opportunities.

As a whole the band did its best work in the lively numbers, such as the marches and dance pieces with simpler rhythms. These included "A Walking Tune" by Grundman, Sousa's Cadets March and "Saber and Spurs March" (an encore), "Military Escort March" by Bennett, "Our Director March" by Bigelow, "Lady of Spain" by Evans, and selections from "Oklahoma!" by Rodgers.

There were some difficulties with syncopation in "Joshua Fit De Battle Ob Jericho" in the "Deep River Suite" by Erickson, but the beat in "Jamaican Rumba" was better. The woodwinds were especially good in "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" in the suite and in passages in "Oklahoma!" Some intonation problems in the opening "Officer Of The Day March" could be charged to the need of warmup.

A band is just the thing to wake up Olney Hall's acoustics.

Teener's High Dive Is Fatal

STOCKTON (AP) — A broken neck, suffered in a high dive from a tree into a lake, caused the death yesterday of Nick Wood, 17, of Hayward, in San Joaquin General Hospital.

The vacationing youth dived from a high tree limb into four feet of water in Weatherbee Lake near Manteca last Tuesday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wood of 21144 Kansas, Hayward.

Measure To Curb Moving Business Abuses Signed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill designed to curb abuses in the household goods moving business has been signed into law, Gov. Edmund G. Brown's office announced today.

The meason by Assemblyman John C. Williamson (D-Bakersfield) requires the State Public Utilities Commission to adopt regulations on delays in shipping and on estimates given to customers by movers.

It also gives the PUC the same power to take action against movers who violate the law as it has over other common carriers.

Brown said in a statement the bill was designed "to protect citizens who may be at the mercy of moving firms because they must move their household goods on sometimes short notice."

Repairman Bruised As Car Leaves Road

Horace Enea, 42, Santa Rosa television repairman, was bruised about 2:55 a.m. today when his southbound panel truck ran off Highway 101 near Tomahawk Lodge, Novato.

The car hit a flasher signal as it ran into the ditch, the California Highway Patrol reported. Enea was treated at Novato Hospital.

Woman, 53, Learns Of Brothers

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—A California woman has been united with three brothers she didn't know she had until last January.

Mrs. Walter Pearl, 53, of Fort Bragg, Calif., has still another brother she hasn't met yet.

Mrs. Pearl's mother died Aug. 31, 1909, while giving birth to her daughter. The girl was put up for adoption and taken by Mr. and Mrs. Karl Hansen of Hartland, Vt., who later moved to Fort Bragg.

The Hansens never told the girl she was adopted. She grew up, married and had three children.

Last winter, going through a trunk, Mrs. Pearl found papers saying she was adopted. On an envelope she found a Springfield address. She wrote to the address and her letter was forwarded to Joseph Scarfe of Ludlow, Mass.

That led to weekend meetings with her brothers, Joseph; Clarence of Indian Orchard and Frederick of Windsor Locks, Conn. She has yet to meet the fourth brother, George Scarfe of Pharr, Tex.

Larkspur Schools Set Open House

Open house will be conducted by the Larkspur School District from 9:30 to 11 a.m. Thursday at Neil Cummins School, Corte Madera, Principal Douglas Lindauer announced today.

He reported 357 pupils in fourth through eighth grades have enrolled in summer school classes. In addition to regular academic courses, they are studying mechanical drawing, sewing, art, French and Spanish.

Fourteen teachers are conducting the courses that began June 24 and will run through Friday.

Cleaned Up Marindale School Is Open Again

Marindale School was reopened today with "a complete sweepdown fore and aft," following a three-day closure due to outbreak of a virus infection among the children last week.

The school was closed on advice of Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, and Dr. Walter O. Ball, pediatrician for the county health department.

During the three-day closure, lasting Wednesday through Friday, the building was cleaned, aired and sterilized. "We gave it the works," said Daryl Hopkins, director of special education in the county schools office. He also emphasized the infection "was not serious."

The school's summer session will be extended three days because of the shutdown. It will end Aug. 7.

Peace Descends At Last Over Point Reyes Way

Announcement of an initial land purchase for the Point Reyes National Seashore was good news, none too soon. But actually nobody was dragging his feet.

Former Project Manager Jim Cole had a rugged time, then was moved north to another job just as he was about to reap some reward through concrete progress at last.

It will be recalled that he didn't even get a headquarters location without considerable trouble. The problem was shrouded in Washingtonian mists but was pretty promptly settled when the notion of Fairfax was abandoned and something more realistic substituted.

Cole's biggest grief was in the matter of money. Whims of Congress kept him on starvation rations last year. When five million dollars in acquisition money finally was made available a few weeks ago he dug in fast, and on a basis of appraisals had several propositions before his "home office" just when he was transferred.

When Fred W. Bennewies was appointed first superintendent of the park a few weeks ago he performed a smooth take-over and has kept things rolling. Purchase of the 1,135-acre Heims dairy ranch between Home and Schooner Bays, facing into historic Drake's Estero and southwest of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, is a good beginning.

Here was an old-time schooner landing, from which sailed ships loaded with Marin dairy products for San Francisco. From this tip of land with its Indian mounds one faces on historic waters and the shifting shoreline, to one's right, where Sir Francis Drake in 1579 landed, careened his Golden Hinde and left a "plate of brasse" as established by painstaking research of the Drake Navigators Guild. The actual site on the Hall ranch will be taken in due course.

Further acquisitions soon may and should include what had been intended for subdivision development. We aren't among those who blame the subdividers for proceeding in degree. The seashore idea came after their money had been invested, and they had to cover all the bases. Suppose the federal government had changed its mind?

Once the situation was clear and the intent firm, it is our understanding that landowners accepted the necessities with good grace. After all the emotion and name-calling, it will be pleasant to have proof of this through early announcement of other vital federal purchase agreements.

Bermuda Grass Vs. Yellow Nut Grass

Bermuda Grass and Yellow Nut Grass are two of Marin's most common and persistent weeds. Unfortunately, both have a firm foothold in a garden bed where we are trying to grow some ivy.

After several years of back-breaking weeding, frequent applications of selective weed-killers, and everything short of voodoo, we are about ready to admit defeat.

A cynical friend suggests giving up and having a contest between these two garden demons to see which takes over eventually. Certainly, both are tough and eager competitors. Worthy rivals, so to speak.

We might even make book on which will triumph and when. Yes, we think our friend has a good idea. It may not be a pretty bed, but it will surely be interesting.

And lots less work.

Will Heaven Turn Out Segregated? Might Be Tough On The Whites

By ART BUCHWALD

WASHINGTON — One of the better shows in Washington at the moment is being held by the Senate Commerce Committee on the public accommodations law, part of President Kennedy's civil rights package. The law would make it compulsory to serve and accommodate someone regardless of race, creed, or color.

Two Southern governors have been helping out poor Sen. Strom Thurmond, who seems to be the only one on the committee fighting against the law.

Both Govs. Ross Barnett of Mississippi and George C. Wallace of Alabama claim the Negro demonstrations are Communist-inspired. They also claim "their" Negroes are happier than Northern Negroes because "their" Negroes know where they stand.

GOV. ROSS BARNETT said he once asked a Negro whether he would rather be white or black and the Negro is said to have replied "he'd rather be black, particularly on Saturday night in Jackson, Miss."

Governor Wallace was asked by Sen. Hart of Michigan: "What do you think heaven will be like? Do you think it will be segregated?"

The Governor replied, "I don't think anyone of us knows what heaven will be like . . . God made us all. He made you and me white, he made others black. He segregated us."

The Governor had a good point and it gets one to thinking, maybe there are two heavens, one for whites and one for blacks.

THIS IS PROBABLY God's way of keeping everyone happy.

But as far as the segregationist is concerned, we're not too sure the white heaven would be such a heaven without Negroes.

First of all, in heaven there are an awful lot of white sheets to wash. Secondly, in order to really have a nice heaven, you would have to keep it immaculately clean.

This is work the Southerners depend on the Negro for. Presumably even in heaven there are crops to harvest and meals to be cooked and children to be taken care of and doors to open and cars to be parked and lawns to be mowed and shoes to be shined and garbage to be removed, and without Negroes the white people would have to do it themselves.

If the white people have to do all the tasks the Negro people have been doing on earth, you couldn't call it very much of a heaven.

ALSO A segregationist's idea of heaven is a place where, no matter how bad off he is, there is somebody worse off in the neighborhood. That's why the white Southerner claims he loves the Negro. It gives him such a heavenly feeling to know that, no matter how black things are, they could be worse if he were black.

As far as Gov. Wallace and Gov. Barnett and Sen. Strom Thurmond are concerned, we doubt if they could get elected to any office without the racial question, and we hope for their sakes there is only one heaven so they could continue to fight for segregation in the Great Beyond.

But on the other hand, if there are two heavens in the hereafter, one for whites and one for blacks, we believe, if we were a segregationist, we'd rather go to hell.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Bock Dramatized A Dead Horse?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

What and Why, Mr. Editor?

On Friday, July 12, there appeared an article "by-lined" by Alton S. Bock, with a headline reading, "Report on Deaf School 'Buried' " and beneath that in smaller type a subheading, "Against Hollis' Proposal".

It is my feeling that you, the editor of a very reputable newspaper, should know that (1) this article contains falsehoods and, (2) the report in question had nothing whatsoever to do with the present proposal before the County Board of Supervisors.

The so-called "buried" report was an evaluation of one class for HARD OF HEARING CHILDREN which during the 1961-62 school year was housed in a small, unsuitable, substandard room in the basement of the old Short School in San Rafael. That report, concerned as it was with one particular group of handicapped children, was paid for with monies donated by the Marin County Parents of Hearing Handicapped Children, Inc., of which I was then president, and not paid for by the county as Mr. Bock states in his article.

You should also be informed that during the 1962-63 school year, this class was held in a modern well-equipped classroom in the Laurel Dell Intermediate School in San Rafael where they were integrated with other children and was not held in Short School as was reported by Mr. Bock. This class was taught by Mrs. Dorothy Fischer who is an excellent teacher of the deaf and hard of hearing. (Mrs. Fischer taught my son in the primary deaf class the year before at Marindale).

You should also be made aware of the fact that there exists a constant cooperative endeavor between the County Superintendent of Schools and the parent groups of handicapped children to improve the programs for these children in our county. The report was submitted to Morrison Gardner who was liaison between the parents and programs for deaf and hard of hearing children.

Why should a reporter lift statements out of context and twist them to give a negative and detrimental impression of the efforts of parents and educators to improve the programs for handicapped children? I wonder if Mr. Bock has ever taken the time to investigate the facts and problems of handicapped children in Marin County as they really exist? He has never interviewed any of our presidents of Marin County Parents of Deaf and Hard of Hearing Children. It seems that he would rather use the columns of your newspaper to dramatize a dead-horse and criticize programs for handicapped that he apparently knows very little about. This article has already caused considerable damage to our cause and may have further damaging repercussions.

What code of journalistic ethics gives license to a reporter to use your newspaper space to adversely affect either directly or indirectly the education of children and, especially in this case, the education of handicapped children?

FRED A. MARTINEZ
Vice president, California Association of Parents of Deaf and Hard of Hearing Children
San Rafael.

Lucas Patients Scattered

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As a constant reader of your paper, never have I enjoyed it as in the past two weeks.

Those letters from Clair Rudolph and Vivian Fenton expressed the words of the people of Marin.

As far as the former patients of Lucas Valley home, they are scattered and separated from their former friends (patients).

I suggest the Independent-Journal send a reporter accompanied by a Marin County supervisor to Sonoma County Hospital. It certainly is worth looking at and the taxpayer certainly got his money's worth, and they certainly care about their county patients and aged.

Base Judgment On The Facts

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I wish to thank you for your generous support of Terra Linda High School's educational program. We have not always agreed but in reviewing the number of articles your paper has written about our school I find that we have been in agreement most of the time.

Judgments must be made by the people in institutions, whether they be newspapers or schools. So long as institutions do notconsider their judgments to be infallible there is room for improvement. I consider that the schools and the press sometimes use poor judgment but that by increasing the flow of communications between these two institutions judgments can be based more on fact than perception.

I feel that the Independent-Journal has recognized the existence of Terra Linda High School sooner and more completely than others, and I think that Terra Linda High School has given the San Rafael High School District and the whole county many reasons to be proud of them. I am sure Terra Linda High School can expect the same thoughtful support under a new principal as it has received to the present.

By the time you receive this letter I will be "serving my country" on Navy training duty, and so this letter is a goodbye to you and a thanks for all you have done for Terra Linda High School.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A workman who was extremely fond of garlic boarded a bus, and plumped himself down next to a very haughty, sour-faced lady. She became immediately aware of the garlic fragrance, and observed icily, "It's a wonder they don't run a special bus for persons who insist on eating garlic." The workman answered cheerfully, "They do, lady. You're on the wrong bus."

Back from attending his first Kentucky Derby in Louisville, Art Buchwald estimated that he consumed about 200 mint juleps, heard "My Old Kentucky Home" sung almost as often, and was made an honorary colonel of at least 30 impressive organizations. He didn't quite get to see the Derby itself, but just before he left, the greatest honor of all was bestowed upon him. They made him an honorary horse.

Good news for lovers of light verse: Margaret Fishback's new collection, "Poems Made Up to Take Out," is now on sale. A typical Fishback four-liner:

"His faults don't bother me at all;
He's almost always on the ball.
He's rarely wrong; he's never lazy;
His virtues are what drive me crazy."

Case Of Pregnant Male Keeshond Preoccupies Our Pooch Expert

MET A MAN the other night while walking along the Sausalito seawall. He said his name was Joe Cathey and that he was a musician. He was fishing with a throw line, using shrimp for bait.

So far he had caught a cod for supper.

"It's a good place to fish," said Joe, "except you get your line caught in the rocks." Joe plays saxophone.

Walked down to see Yee Tock (Willie) Chee. Willie said he may not have to move down the street after all. He's not sure. Things are kind of up in the air. If not, he'd just as soon stay where he is.

Willie said Bob, next door, is closing his market. "I don't like it," said Willie. "We work together." He added that a lot of the old people are dying off and the new people can't seem to find the small markets.

WILLIE WAS BUSY with customers, it seemed.

Asked Willie if he sold anything Chinese. He said the only thing he carries that is Chinese is tea and then he sold us some "Wo Hop Finest Gon Jim Tea" from Hong Kong. Wrapped in paper, apparently stamped by hand.

He also showed us some Chinese noodles, chow mein and chop suey, all in cans, all American.

Walked up past Bob's market and read the sign in his window: "20 per cent off on grocerys."

CHIEF PASTRAMI is next on this route. This is a wooden Indian carved by Barbara Stein outside the Kettle Restaurant. He has a gold tooth and marbles for eyes. But one marble is gone, the right eye.

The pink houses which were so exciting when they were sitting at the eastern gate to Mill Valley don't seem to be drawing any interest at all at Waldo Point where they seem permanently affixed to Kappas Yacht Harbor. One has grown two stories tall. It just goes to show how important location is. Now George Kappas has everything.

Chet Lima dropped into the self-service laundry at Dolan's Corners the other night, spotted a candy machine, plunked in a nickel and what did he get? A small, handy packet of Dash.

Melvin H. Klyce, the man who built the sun dial in Mill Valley near the town clock, said he has received "repercussions" from all over the nation. A person from Springdale, Ark., wanted to know if it would be a good Rotary project for his town. He also heard from a high school buddy he hadn't heard from in 40 years and a brother-in-law in Nashville, Tenn.

THE IRISH COP Stan Kelly is all "unzipped" over the new post office ZIP law. He says he got a letter the other day from Mill Valley Postmaster John T. Little and that the postmaster himself forgot to address him with a ZIP number.

Checking with the post office, we were told that it is not necessary in small cities when writing within the city to use the number but that eventually the system will work toward that end.

Under the "found" ads posted by the Humane Society which ran three days last week in the I-J was one as follows: "San Anselmo, male black, brown white on feet Keeshond (pregnant)."

It isn't easy.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Rockefeller Casts The Die, Will Now Drive For Presidency

NEW YORK—It is evident that the Rockefeller die is cast. It remains only for the governor of New York to make his words fully conform to his actions which now show that he is committed to an unrelenting campaign for the 1964 Republican Presidential nomination.

This means that Mr. Rockefeller is prepared to challenge Sen. Barry Goldwater and the more conservative wing of the Republican Party in an all-out, coast-to-coast, face-to-face contest which will almost certainly not be decided until the San Francisco convention next summer.

Mr. Rockefeller's position-paper attacking the "radical right" on every major aspect of national policy and warning the Republican Party against becoming its captive, is proof enough that he is in the race all the way—and in due course will say so.

THIS INITIATIVE by the governor would have all the force of carbonated water tossed into a stiff wind if he did not intend to make himself the instrument of the moderate-to-liberal, international-minded forces in his own party. It would be an idle exercise in rhetoric if he did not intend to become an avowed candidate for the Presidential nomination so that the Republican Party voters can have a meaningful choice of candidates next year.

The only way the Republicans can have a choice of policy is to have a choice of candidates who in their record and views embody a choice of policy—within the broad framework of party consensus.

REPUBLICAN Party leaders in all parts of the country have lately been receiving unexpected long-distance telephone calls which begin: "Hello, there; how are you? How are things going?"

It's a familiar voice. It is Mr. Rockefeller busy at his work. He is not limiting his calls to old cronies. He is making new acquaintances and talking with past critics. At this stage he is not so much asking for open commitments as for open minds.

OBVIOUSLY IT IS too soon for Mr. Rockefeller to tie himself to any unchangeable pre-convention strategy. But one thing can be said for sure. An all-out Rockefeller campaign will involve entering Presidential primaries in several states and he will be hopeful that Mr. Goldwater will be willing to contest one or more.

I would expect that Mr. Rockefeller would submit his candidacy to the first available in 1964. This would be the long-familiar proving ground for Presidential aspirants—the New Hampshire primary where Gen. Eisenhower's victory over Sen. Taft in 1952 gave his pre-convention campaign its early impetus.

Then probably a Midwestern state and, as a near certainty, the California primary which would provide an unusually good testing ground for a Rockefeller-Goldwater contest.

Here is the most populous state in the Union where the "radical right" is active and articulate, a state that recently elected a Democratic governor and a Republican senator. The outcome there would furnish the convention with a solid clue as to whom the Republican voters would like the party to nominate.

EXPANSION OF MEDICAL BUILDING

This is how San Rafael Medical Group building at 1540 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, will look when a second floor is completed by late October. The second floor addition will be supported on four round columns. The new building will extend over part of the outer parking spaces without curtailing the parking area. An elevator and a stairway will provide access to the upper floor. William H. McDevitt Co. is general contractor. Carl F. Gromme and Ralph B. Priestley, San Rafael architects, designed both the original building and the addition.

Money Talk On School Board Agenda

The San Rafael Board of Education will talk about money when it meets at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, including the topics of uses for a proposed 50 cent tax hike, approval of a tentative budget and the cost of stopping vandalism in San Rafael schools.

Supt. Bert Corona will report that by 1967, a tax of $1.61 per $100 assessed valuation is estimated to be necessary to pay for operating expenses.

The district presently levies a $1.25 tax rate plus 13 cents in over-ride taxes and 39 cents for bond retirement.

If the proposed 50 cent tax increase is approved by voters Oct. 8, the tax rate could go as high as $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation plus over-ride and bond retirement taxes.

The board will consider signing contracts with architects Gromme and Priestley for construction of 34 classrooms and a library at San Rafael High School and 18 classrooms at Terra Linda High School.

Charles L. Condrotte, business manager for San Rafael schools, will report on $1,127 damage done this year to city schools by vandals and the cost of hiring night watchmen or a patrol service.

The board will also hear a report on student fund accounting and will discuss an error in bid specifications for foreign language laboratories that makes it necessary to call for new bids and rescind an award to Millers Radio and TV Supply.

SPACE HATS ARE TESTED ON FREEWAYS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Scientists are testing a new space helmet on Los Angeles freeways. They say a trip on the freeways can be about as tension-filled as one into space.

The helmet is clapped on scientists-motorists. It records brain waves as the scientist forges through bustling freeway traffic.

The recordings are analyzed later in a massive computer at the University of California at Los Angeles' Brain Research Institute to compare changes in brain wave readings with the changes in driving conditions and stresses.

Eventually, the helmet will be used by American astronauts to take brain wave readings during extended space flights.

Demos Mobilizing To Pass Budget

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Senate Democrats mobilized their forces today for a last-ditch effort to snap the week-long deadlock over Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget and wind up the legislature's special session.

Only a single vote appeared to stand between an agreement and a continued stalemate.

Administration sources predicted the Republican blockade will end with approval of the 84-million-dollar bill to supplement the 3.14-billion-dollar budget that came out of the embattled general session in June.

"This can't go indefinitely," said a spokesman in the governor's office.

Brown already has been assured enactment of his entire 147-million-dollar revenue program. Senate Republicans have refused to provide the necessary two-thirds margin for the extra spending in protest against passage of a bank and corporation franchise tax measure.

The appropriation bill, requiring support by 27 of the 40 senators, got hung up last week on a strictly partisan lineup of 24 Democrats to 12 Republicans.

Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, (D-San Francisco), who abstained on that roll call, has decided to vote for the bill. The 26th vote is expected to be cast by Sen. Samuel R. Geddes, (D-Uapa), who was home ill during the budget debate.

Democrats control the Senate, 27-18. The 27th Democrat, George Miller, Jr., of Martinez, has been laid up since June with a heart ailment. Republicans also have a member on the sick list—Vernon Sturgeon of San Luis Obispo.

Democratic informants who predicted a break in hte deadlock declined to say which Republican, or Republicans, would swing over to their side.

Legislative leaders frankly hoped the long weekend recess would provide an opportunity for home town pressure in behalf of the various budget items at stake in the proposed augmentation.

These include funds for crippled children, collage scholarships, mental health services, education and state pay raises. A separate bill seeks an additional 40 million dollars this year and 60 million dollars next year for public school support.

Brown intends to sign the revenue bills after his scheduled return tonight from the national governors conference in Miami Beach.

In a weekend statement, Senate Minority leader John F. McCarthy, (R-San Rafael), said that if the Democratic governor does sign the measure:

"He will be giving Republicans their No. 1 issue for next year's campaigns —in 65 Assemblyl and Senate districts now heid by Democrats."

McCarthy reiterated that omple funds are available for all the spending proposed by Brown without a new budget and without new taxes. The administration denies new taxes are involved in the speedup of payments of bank, corporation insurance company and personal income taxes.

Plane Offers Better Look At Eclipse

EDMONTON, Canada (AP) — Scientists believe a longer look at the sun's eclipse will provide valuable information about solar flares and a better understanding of how the sun affects weather.

For 100 seconds Saturday Canadians got to see a total eclipse — a chance to pause in the moon's spacious shadow as the earth's big satellite moved between this planet and the sun.

But high overhead, in a speeding jet transport, scientists raced along under the shadow at 525 m.p.h.—and got this reward:

They were able to see the eclipse for exactly 42.4 seconds longer than the people on the ground.

Aboard the plane were astronomers, researchers, cameramen and astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter. They assembled here from all over the United States for this moment's chance to shadow a shadow.

Here's why: When the sun's bright light is blocked by the moon's interposition, scientists can study solar flares from the sun's surface—the ones which generate the radiation menacing manned space flights. They can also photograph weak, distant lights in space—the ones which normally pass unseen because they are blocked out by the sun's bright glare.

The 42.4 seconds given astronomers by the speed of a DC-8 jet is just the beginning of a new era of eclipse-watching, the experts say.

Plane builders expect a supersonic transport to be ready for eclipses July 10, 1973, in northern Alaska, and Feb. 26, 1979, in the Pacific Northwest. They say such a plane could keep up with the moon's shadow, which travels at 1,700 m.p.h.

Priests Help Save Two Girls In Storm

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "Let's have another picnic."

So said Christy Martine, 3, who was rescued yesterday after she had been lashed for nine hours to the bow of a swamped boat in Lake Ponchartrain.

"But this time not in the water," she said as she rested in a hospital here.

She and a Catholic priest, the Rev. Anatole Baillergeon, O.M.I., 40, a professor at the Oblate Seminary at Natick, Mass., were pulled, nearly unconscious from the water yesterday.

Another priest, the Rev. John Sauvageau, O.M.I., 45, of New Orleans, swam seven miles to shore, without a life preserver. He summoned the Coast Guard.

Father Sauvageau made the swim towing Lana Fagot, 14, buoyed up by a plastic ice box and a life preserver fashioned from a boat seat cushion.

Mrs. Jean Martine, 26, the mother of Christy, also with a life preserver, swam five miles toward shore before she was picked up.

Father Baillergeon, who could not swim, stayed behind to take care of the child until help came.

The 18-foot motorboat, which was swamped in a sudden squall, with the bow of the boat above the surface.

The boat was about seven miles from the north shore of the 24-mile wide lake.

Father Baillergeon tied the little girl to the boat and to himself. After the other priest gave the alert, a Coast Guard helicopter picked them up. Another boat picked up Mrs. Martine.

The boating party had crossed the lake from New Orleans to visit some church people who were picnicking on the north shore.

Mrs. Martine is secretary to Father Baillergeon. The Fagot girl is her baby sitter. They were returning from the picnic when the mishap occurred.

Neck Strained In Car Wreck

One man suffered neck strain about 5 p.m. yesterday in a three-car rear-end crash on Golden Gate Bridge about 500 feet north of the north tower, the California Highway Patrol reported.

A northbound car driven by William D. Goodrich, 26, San Francisco soldier, ran into the rear of one driven by Donald L. Thom, 28, Livermore high school teacher, which in turn hit that of Anne L. Simpson, 48, of 8 Cooper Lane, Sausalito.

Arthur C. Thom, 61, of Long Beach, riding in the middle car, was treated at Park Emergency Hospital, San Francisco.

Graham, who this week enlisted in the Navy's nuclear field electronics program, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Graham of 631 Gallerita Way, Santa Venetia, and a graduate of Terra Linda High School.

Appointments Of Firemen Due In Hub

A dozen items are on the agenda for the San Anselmo City Council's regular meeting tomorrow night at 8 in the city hall.

City fathers will consider the appointment of a fire captain, lieutenant and fireman.

Dr. Frederic W. Terrien, professor of sociology at San Francisco State College asks permission to include San Anselmo in a study on government structure.

Councilmen will once again discuss the request by miscellaneous city employees to have their retirement plan upgraded.

Other items scheduled for discussion are:

1. Appeal by J. L. Wheeler for a change of zoning for duplex to apartment on property at 179 Tunstead Avenue.

2. Setting a date for examination for street foreman.

3. Filling vacancies on the planning and recreation commissions.

4. An agreement for mutual fire aid with San Quentin Fire Department.

5. Restricting parking on Center Boulevard and north side of Florence Avenue.

6. Request by the Kiwanis Club to hang a banner announcing their rodeo.

San Francisco Men Injured In Smashup

Two San Francisco men were injured about 5:55 p.m. yesterday when the southbound Volkswagen in which they were riding ran into the rear of a Cadillac near the Sausalito lateral on Highway 101, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Robert Weller, 23, who suffered forehead cuts, and Thomas Anderson, 26, who suffered several broken teeth, were riding with Jacqueline Bigler, 22, San Francisco secretary, whose car ran into one driven by Joseph Enos, 54, San Jose plumber. Weller and Anderson were treated at Marin General Hospital.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Beautiful Bridge Hand Has Wonderful, Surprise Ending

There is no great moral lesson in today's hand, but some bridge players may find it beautiful.

Think of it this way: When did you last see a singleton deuce win the last trick?

West, the gent who pushed the auction up to five hearts, bears the unlikely monicker of Roxy Violin, and his bidding is sometimes as fancy as his name.

NEVER DOUBT

(Never doubt a word that you read in this column. Roxy Violin, one of the leading bridge players of Los Angeles, was named after "Roxy" Rothafel, closest friend of the lad's father — the violinist Mischa Violin.)

Violin led his top diamonds, and South ruffed the third.

Declarer cashed the ace of spades and tried to ruff a spade in dummy, only to be over-ruffed.

RUFFS HEART

Back came a high heart, and South ruffed. Since declarer couldn't eat his low spades he ruffed another in dummy and tried not to wince when East over-ruffed.

South ruffed another high heart and led another spade for a third over-ruff.

Back came a high diamond this time, and South ruffed for the fourth time.

TWO SPADES

By this time South had two spades and a trump, with one trump left in dummy. He ruffed a spade in dummy and got back by ruffing a heart.

The 13th trick had arrived, and West's last card was the singleton deuce of trumps — the last trump left.

Violin thought of getting his camera to take a picture of it, but it would simply look like any other deuce of clubs.

Beauty, after all, is in the eye of the beholder.

ECLIPSE AS SEEN THROUGH A CAMERA

There was little excitement in Marin over a partial eclipse of the sun shortly after noon Saturday, the sky not being noticeably darkened by the phenomenon. But Jim Kean, Independent-Journal photographer, chose a way to view the eclipse without possible eye injury — and took this picture of the result. Using a camera as a "shadow box," Kean projected image of sun on white sheet of paper. Indentation at top of white spot shows shadow of moon. This was about height of eclipse here.

Sweden Closing Gap In Defenses

By BRACK CURRY

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Sweden's armed forces have embarked on a crash program to close the defense gap caused by the betrayal of military secrets to the Soviet Union by Air Force Col. Etig Erik Wennerstrom.

There is an atmosphere of almost wartime urgency at the Defense Ministry.

Lights burn far into the night as army, navy and air force officers grapple with the task of repairing the probable loss of the nation's entire defense strategy to the Russians.

Security services are working around the clock to check on other possible leaks in the military establishment or the government.

Everyone the government, opposition parties, defense staffs and the newspapers — agrees that Wennerstrom crippled Sweden. The tall, suave airman diplomat has confessed that he fed military secrets to the Russians for 15 years.

During that period he had access to Sweden's entire defense strategy. Wennerstrom knew a lot about the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's defense plans and weapons. He visited NATO military installations. He was in frequent contact with Danish and Norwegian military men. He was friendly with many top Western diplomats here.

The armed forces face an immensely complicated and costly task. Fortifications, headquarters and battle stations, hangars, ship tunnels, repair shops and storage depots have been built into granite accommodations at top-secret locations.

Newspapers have reported there are 500 of these. Two deep tunnels have been carved out of a mountain to accommodate destroyers, submarines and other naval units. Plans have called for the entire navy to be provided with tunnels. These installations cannot be moved. Must new ones be built?

The Swedish air force of 1,000 all-jet, first-line planes must now consider whether a major redeployment to new bases underground and on the surface is needed to maintain its combat effectiveness.

For its oil supplies Sweden depends entirely on imports. Oil and gasoline are stored in vast underground tanks in rock chambers and abandoned mines. Hidden pipelines link these to the berthing places of tankers and tank cars. It will take years and vast sums of money to relocate these.

Military expenditures now take about one-fifth of Sweden's national budget. According to some estimates, this nation now must spend the equivalent of hundreds of millions of dollars more, and in a hurry, to repair the damage of the loss of defense secrets through Wennerstrom.

Informed sources say Sweden probably will face vastly increased military research costs as a result of the Wennerstrom case.

Although Sweden is neutral and not a member of NATO, the Western powers for some time quietly passed on to the Swedish armed forces important technical data on defense matters.

Novato Man's Plants Win In Flower Show

Victor Bello of Novato was the sole Marin winner in judging of the flower show which is described as "the hit" of the Sonoma County Fair in Santa Rosa.

The fair will continue through Saturday.

Bello won five first places and one second place for potted plants.

Tom Tognetti of San Rafael won two first place ribbons and one second place in the 4-H Club division of the fair. Noel Roach of Novato likewise captured two firsts and one second in that division, and Ronald Lear of Novato won one first place.

In the open poultry show, Dale Camden of Kentfield won a second place and a third place ribbon.

In 4-H Club rabbits, Richard Miller of San Anselmo was awarded two firsts and two seconds; David Nelson of Novato, two firsts and two seconds, and Kim Rombach of Novato, a second and a third.

Helen L. Hill of Point Reyes Station won a second place ribbon in preserved foods, in the open judging, and four first place ribbons in needlework.

The Los Angeles metropolitan area leads the nation in the number of hotels, motels and tourist camps.

Girl, 18, Says She Robbed Bank In City

HONOLULU (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation had an 18-year-old girl confined in a Honolulu jail yesterday after she called police and told them she robbed a bank in San Francisco. Her case was turned over to U. S. District Court.

She was held under $5,000 bond and charged with bank robbery.

FBI Special Agent in Charge Frank L. Price said Mrs. Lynne Kilpatrick Swisher asked police to come and get her because all she had left from an estimated $450 in loot was 11 cents.

Honolulu patrolmen Esmael Le La Cruz said the girl greeted officers on Waikiki Beach wearing a blouse, sandals and slacks. He said, "I thought she was crazy when she told me she robbed a bank. Whoever heard of a girl like that robbing a bank?"

De La Cruz described Mrs. Swisher as tall, blonde and shapely. He said she was carrying a pillow case full of clothes and he quoted her as saying she had had a wonderful "vacation."

Agent Price said the "vacation" started when she held up a Wells Fargo Bank branch in downtown San Francisco July 15. A teller that day was robbed of about $500 by a young woman described as pale but cool, wearing a plaid coat, who used a note reading, "I am not fooling. I want all your money." Price said Mrs. Swisher told officers the gun was a toy.

De La Cruz said the girl gave this account:

"I did it on the spur of the moment . . . I got the cash, stuck it in my purse and went out. Then I went to a hot dog stand and sipped a fruit drink . . . when the police didn't show up to get me, I figured I had it made."

She bought clothes. She took a cab to the airport, she paid $133 for a ticket to Hawaii. She got there seven hours after the holdup and rented a furnished room in Waikiki. She went broke in six days.

Her husband is Terry Swisher, a San Francisco theater usher.

Officer De La Cruz quoted her, "Before this I never had any money in my whole life . . . "

"It's over. But it was worth it. I had a wonderful time."

Liston Formidable Favorite In Title Bout Tonight

LAS VEGAS, Nes. (AP)—Awesome Sonny Liston remained a most formidable favorite to retain the world heavyweight in tonight's fight with Floyd Patterson, the man he utterly wrecked in one devastating round in Chicago last Sept. 25.

Scheduled for 15 rounds, although you can get even money in the Las Vegas gambling parlors that it won't go four, this return encounter goes on at 7:30 p.m., PDT.

A capacity crowd of almost 8,000 will watch in person in the Las Vegas Convention Center, and an undetermined number will view it in more than 140 theater and other outlets around the nation via closed circuit television.

The rematch, one that many thought never would take place, figures to draw around $250,000 in the live gate and upward of $700,000 from television and movie returns.

This would be far less than the four million dollar-plus paid out for the original match, a statistic easily explained by the tick of a stopwatch. The first one lasted two minutes six seconds, third quickest in heavyweight title boxing history.

Liston predicted he would weigh 213-214 pounds, a pound or so under his Chicago weight. Patterson said he hoped to come in at 195, six more than before.

The betting odds in recent days have been 4-1 on 30-year-old Sonny, who now calls Denver his home, and 30-1 the 28-year-old ex-champion won't be around after 15 rounds.

"After five, I'm quittin'," said Liston, who has from the outset looked with professional disdain on Patterson's chances.

Has he thought of the possibility that Floyd might win?

"It didn't cross my mind the first time, why should it cross my mind this time," said Liston.

Patterson has repeatedly deprecated himself for his "shameful" showing at Chicago.

"I'll probably be applauded if I get by the first round," he said in his final press interview, smiling abjectly.

"But I hope and I think I can win this time," he insisted.

Just how this fight will go is anyone's guess. Liston promised to go all-out to even better, if possible, his first knockout time.

"He'll have to be a duckin' son-of-a-gun," said Sonny, and he said it in those exact words.

"I'll fight my fight this time. I'm not the champion. I won't run but I can, as the challenger, fight my own way," Floyd declared.

Both fighters signed papers for the Nevada Athletic Commission that there is no obligation, legal or otherwise, for either to participate in a third title fight.

Scoring in Nevada is five points to the winner of a round, four or less to the loser, and five each for an even round.

The three-knockdown rule will be waived but the mandatory eight-count on a knockdown will be in effect.

Like Long Shots? Then Bet A Few Bobs On Giants Overcoming L.A.

CONNOLLY

If you like "long shots"—(and who doesn't?) you might like to plac a couple of bobs on the S.F. Giants to start on a wild rampage, win about 40 of their remaining 66 games and retain their national League championship.

That's about the only way the S.F. entry can turn the trick, assuming of course, other clubs as well as the Giants, can clobber the L.A. Dodgers.

Starting tomorrow night the Giants get three more whacks at the N.Y. Mets, following on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday with those nasty Pittsburgh Pirates who will be at Candlestick Park.

Immediately after the Pirates leave another pesty outfit —the Phils, for two games. And after that our brave and I hope our successful Giants will waft into the wide open spaces for a 16 game road trip that could bolster their chances or wipe them out like a flash flood.

SHOULD THE Giants upset the apple cart with a long winning streak, they might perform another miracle finish and sneak in under the wire. Phew! what odds a guy would want on that happening, particularly when you review the past 13 games.

The shock Giant rooters have taken the last two weeks was heart-breaking. They saw their favorite ball club stumble, fumble, and mess up games that should have been in the bag.

ALL SORTS of wild rumors will be flying about changes being made. You'll probably hear that owner Horace Stoneham is calling in Manager Dark and reading him the riot act. You undoubtedly will read screaming headlines that the "Giants clique" must be broken—that Cepeda will be traded and so on into the night.

Seriously, the business at hand from now on is not rehashing the past, but in shaping what is ahead in the remaining 66 games.

The 1963 pennant fight is most unusual in that seven or eight clubs are better than .500 in the averages. A winning siesta by the Giants with a "swooning streak" by the Dodgers, Cubs, St. Louis or Cincinnati, could turn the whole kit and kaboodle into a mad dog scrap.

Seldom in baseball has a championship ball club fallen to pieces like the Giants. They seem to actually thrive on upsetting things. They've given away at least half of the games they've lost.

WHEN YOU look at the batting averages of the team you get the real answer. Pitching rises and falls with team hitting. When the Giants were hitting their pitching seemed adequate. When the hitting stopped the infield sagged, the pitching worsened, so that the combination proved almost fatal to the Giants' chances.

Right now the Giant hopefuls want to forget about what caused the collapse — they'd like to see the team start clicking as a unit, and playing up to its true potential. And in my book, the true potential of the Giants makes them the best in the league.

Li'l World Series Set Aug. 5-6-7 In Hub City League

The Senators (9-2) and the Braves (8-3) lead in the red-hot American and National League races in the San Anselmo Midget League.

With the season nearing the three-quarters mark, the Cardinals (913) are battling the Senators for top spot in the American League while the Cubs (7-3) and the Giants (6-6) are close behind the Braves in the National League chase.

Players are all between the ages of 7½ and 10.

Winners of the two leagues will meet in the "Little World Series" August 5, 6, and 7.

The San Anselmo Midget League, now in its ninth year, is sponsored by the city's recreation department. When the program began in 1955, there were three teams and 30 boys participating. This year's program has 10 teams with almost 250 boys playing.

Giants Home From Tragic Trip, Face Mets Tomorrow

The Giants are back in San Francisco after a road trip that threatened to take them to Broadway as the season's outstanding tragedy.

They wound up the eastern swing with a 10-5 pounding of Cincinnati yesterday which contained both good and bad omens. Alvin Dark's crew takes the day off today, and then opens a nine-game home stand tomorrow night against New York.

Winding up at 4-9 for the out-of-town tour, the Giants returned home tied with the Reds for fourth, eight and one-half games behind Los Angeles, which dropped a double-header to Milwaukee yesterday.

Things went right for a change yesterday, with Giant power accounting for three home runs and 16 hits. Jim Davenport and Felipe Alou, who haven't had the pitchers terrified lately, went 3-for-5 and 2-for-5 respectively, each driving in two runs. Willie Mays also went 2-for-4, driving across a run.

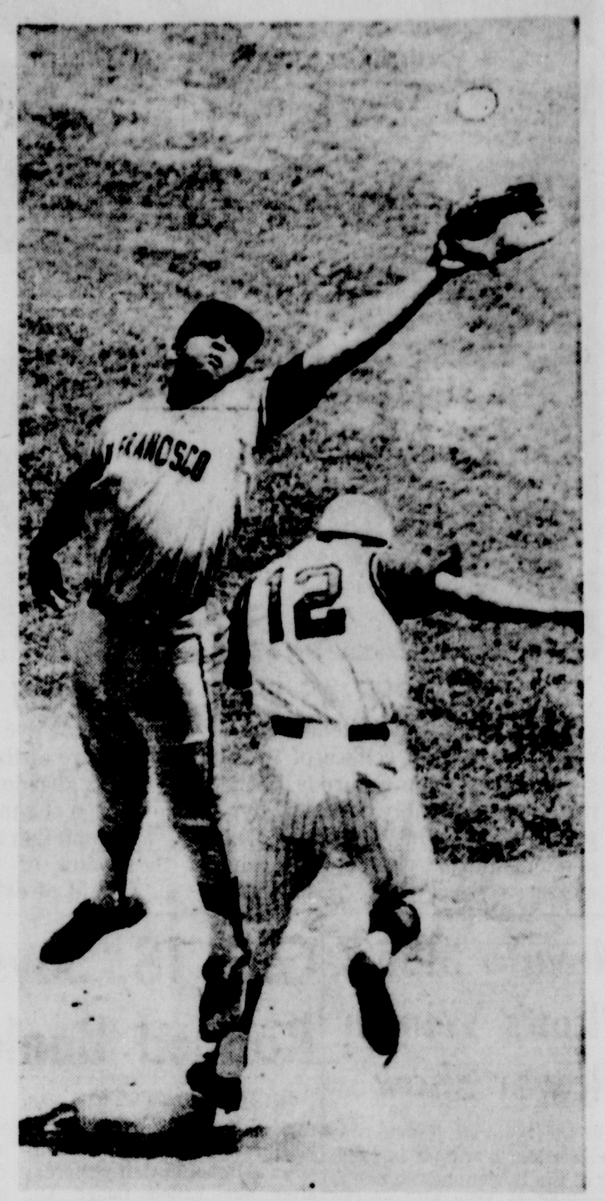
Davenport slammed his third homer of the year in the third to drive in Mays. Alou's 14th over the center field wall in the sixth came behind Harvey Kuenn's single. Orlando Cepeda crashed his 19th in the ninth. Kuenn, who was 3-for-4, raised his team-leading batting average to .306.

The road trip marked the starting debuts of Tom Haller in right field and Davenport at second base as Dark tried to bolster the weak Giants hitting. During the trip, the club scored 48 runs in 13 games, for an average per game of 3.69.

A continuing problem, as shown yesterday, was the failure of San Francisco starters to finish. Billy O'Dell was chased in the fourth and Bobby Bolin came on to pitch the last five and one-third innings, giving up three hits and two runs. He notched his fifth win against three losses.

Only two starters finished during the swing — both of them in losing games. The 11 Giant pitchers made 34 appearances in 13 games.

The two runs off Bolin were produced in the bottom of the ninth when Vada Pinson slammed his ninth homer following Tommy Harper's single. Harper and Pinson committed errors in the first two innings to start the Giants on the way to the victory.



HIGHER, ORLANDO, HIGHER — Giant first basman Orlando Cepeda leaps for wild throw from third sacker Harvey Kuenn as Cincinnati's Gene Freese beats out an infield hit in third inning of yesterday's game at Crosley Field. The Red's Vada Pinson scored from second on the error by Kuenn, and Freese advanced to second. Giants got 16 hits, won 10-5. (Ap Wirephoto)

NAT'L LEAGUE HIGHLIGHTS

It Was Just An All-Around Bad Day For Walter Alston

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

You say you were thrown out of both ball games yesterday for umpire-baiting? Your team lost a double-header and you were hit in the face with a beer container?

Chin up, Walter Alston, your Los Angeles Dodgers are leading the National League by six games and you have a nine-game home stand coming up.

Despite 7-2 and 13-7 losses to the Milwaukee Braves yesterday, the Dodgers wound up their successful road trip with a 10-4 mark, giving them a six-game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals. When the road trip began, the Dodgers held only a three-game lead over the San Francisco Giants.

The usually quiet and restrained Alston, with the Dodgers' disastrous collapses of the past two seasons indelible in his mind, was ejected in the sixth inning of the first game by umpire Tom Gorman. In the first inning of the nightcap, umpire Stan Landes gave the Dodger manager the thumb. And then a Milwaukee fan belted Alston with a paper beer container.

CLAIMS BALK

Alston claimed that Bob Sadowski was balking in the opener and then became incensed when a balk was called on rookie Nick Willhite of the Dodgers in the second game.

In other N.L. games, the Cardinals rapped out 17 hits to beat the Houston Colts, 5-4; the Giants clubbed 16 hits in downing the Cincinnati Reds, 10-5; the Philadelphia Phillies swept a double-header from the New York Mets, 8-0 and 7-2, and Pittsburgh and Chicago split, the Cubs taking the opener, 5-1, and the Pirates the nightcap, 6-5, in 14 innings.

Milwaukee clobbered eight Dodger pitchers for 26 hits, including homers by Hank Aaron, Denis Menke, Joe Torre and Gene Oliver, in sweeping the twin bill. Sadowski earned his first major league victory in the opener while reliever Tony Cloninger got credit for the second-game triumph.

Bob Gibson pitched an eight-hitter and George Altman and Ken Boyer slammed homers in pacing the Cardinals to victory. Dick Groat drove home three runs for St. Louis.

The Phillies, on another second half of the season surge, extended their winning streak to seven as Chris Short hurled a four-hitter in the opener and Dennis Bennett and Johnny Klippstein combined for a seven-hitter in the nightcap against the Mets. Philadelphia has won 13 of its last 16 games for its longest winning streak since 1955.

Lou Brock's two-run homer and Paul Toth's seven-hit pitching gave Chicago its first game triumph while Pittsburgh bounced back in the nightcap on Bill Virdon's run-producing single in the 14th inning. Jerry Lynch of the Pirates equalled the major league career record for pinch-hit home runs when he hit one to tie the score 5-5 in the ninth inning. Lynch shares the record of 14 with George Crowe.

Clay Court Title Won By McKinley

RIVER FOREST, Ill. (AP) — Chuck McKinley, the new national clay court tennis champion, and runner-up Dennis Ralston are the only sure bets for the U.S. Davis Cup team, non-playing captain Bob Kelleher said today.

Kelleher and the traveling tennis brigade headed for the Merion Cricket Club near Philadelphia for the Pennsylvania Grass Court championships this week.

It is there, Kelleher said, that he may select a four-man team to meet, in all probability, Mexico in the American Zone semi-finals at Los Angeles starting Aug. 16.

"You would have to say McKinley and Ralton are the only sure bets to make it," Kelleher told the Associated Press. "Picking the other two is going to be one of the biggest problems I've had.

"There are 6 or 8 fellows in the scramble—like Bill Bond (who will be defending his Pennsylvania grass court crown), Allen Fox, Don Dell, Marty Riessen and others.

"Three of our top ranked players no longer are around. Frank Froehling has had to have surgery. Jack Douglas and Hamilton Richardson have retired.

"I am selecting only four for the U.S. team. In Davis Cup competition, you win on quality not quantity."

Wimbledon champion McKinley needed only a little more than an hour to crush NCAA titlist Ralston 6-2, 6-2, 6-4 yesterday in winning his second National Clay Court crown at the River Forest Tennis Club.

Clark Graebner, of Shaker Heights Ohio and Riessen, Evanston, Ill., upset top-seeded Ralston and McKinley 6-4, 0-6, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3 for the doubles championship.

Nancy Richey, 20-year-old daughter of a Dallas tennis professional, took only 33 minutes to dispose of 18-year-old Victoria Palmer of Phoenix, Ariz., 6-1, 6-1 for the women's title.

Bass Fishing Outlook Good For Four Years

SACRAMENTO (AP) — There was good news for California striped bass fishermen from the State Fish and Game Department today.

The department reported the fourth consecutive heavy spawning of stripers in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta, virtually assuring good angling through 1967.

The report was based on the department's annual survey of striper spawning conducted with tow nets at 30 locations in the delta.

The department said the first year of heavy reproduction on the current cycle was 1960, and legal-sized fish produced that year entered the fishery this year.

The legal size for stripers is 16 inches. Fishing is permitted the year around with a three-fish limit.

Twosome Tourney At Meadow Club

Lyle Hollingsworth and Ed Christie Jr. squeaked through to win the Meadow Club best-ball twosome championship yesterday with a score of 122. Ed Lindner and Al Garcia had 123, while these six teams had 124:

Fred Hale-William Shaw; Robert Grady-Keith Grady; Maurice Strom-Ray Johnson; Dr. John Cann-Gordon Donohgue; John Allen III-William Carewe and George Kerrigan-Dr. Tom Brennan. Don Lynch and Bert Tischbern carded 126.

Russ Chortle, Yanks Sulk After Track, Field Battle

Independent-Journal Sports

Monday, July 22, 1963 11

MOSCOW (AP)—When does a winner feel like a loser?

When he beats the Russians by only five points.

The American track and field team scratched out a victory over the Soviet Union in their annual dual meet here Saturday and Sunday by that slim margin, lowest American victory total ever.

But it would be difficult to identify the winners today. The Russians were flashing their thumbs up "hunky dory" signal all over town.

The Americans were gloomy.

There were enough sour grapes around to start a vinegar factory.

Targets for American carping included the food in Moscow hotels, some of the athletes themselves and the behavior of some members of the women's team, who reportedly sat around hotel lobbies complaining about life in Moscow, instead of training.

These are the cold facts:

The Americans won 12 of the events, the Russians 10. That was the lowest victory margin in the history of the five meets in a series that began in 1958.

The Americans got only the points they expected, and not all of those. None of their hoped-for points materialized.

The Soviets won the 110 high hurdles for the first time, and took seconds in the 100 and 400 meters for the first time. Russion Valery Brumel broke his own world high jump record with a leap of 7 feet 5¾ inches.

The Americans lost the 400 meter relay when they were disqualified for blatently illegal baton passing.

Almost unbelievable disaster struck the women's team in the Soviet meet.

The girls were whipped by the Russians 75-28, lost all 10 events and only took two seconds.

Under the scoring system of 5-3-2-1, with two athletes from each nation in each event, the worst they could have scored was 30 points if they had only walked around the track.

But in probably the worst international showing ever made by an American team, they didn't even achieve that. Two girls were thrown out of races for false starts and one girl fell in the hurdles and didn't finish.

That made the combined score—the one the Russians watch closely—189-147 for the Russians.

American 1-2 sweeps in the 200, 400 hurdles, 1500 and discus yesterday, plus a smashing victory in the 1600 meter relay stemmed the Soviet tide.

Dyrol Burleson whipped Tom O'Hara in the stretch run of the 1500, in 3:41—the equivalent of a 3:58 mile.

Henry Carr, who has a pending world record of 20.3, took the 200 in 20.9, with Paul Drayton second.

Veteran Willie Atterberry repeated in the hurdles in 50.4, with Rex Cawley, who led most of the way, second.

The "old pros," Jay Silvester and Rink Babka, finished 1-2 in the discus, although they only got off the plane to join the team Friday night, five days after most of the others had arrived.

Two other late arrivals, Harold Connolly and Parry O'Brien, turned out to be lifesavers, too. Connolly won the hammer for the third time in the five meets, and O'Brien was second in the shot to teammate's Dave Davis, both on Saturday.

Jim Beatty, the Los Angeles star who was favored to win the 5,000, did not start in the race because of an injured leg muscle. The result was a Soviet 1-2 sweep.

San Anselmo Nips Novato To Lead Semi-Pro League

The San Anselmo Merchants took an early 7-0 lead in their showdown tussle with co-leader Novato yesterday, and then barely stalled a Knickerbocker rally in the late innings to win 9-8 and take an undisputed lead in the Marin Semi-Pro League.

Billings-Hutchison Builders moved into second place, a half game behind the Merchants, by trouning the Ongaro Plumbers 18-0 Saturday night. The Presidio tied Novato for third by walloping the Dons of Marin 8-2, and Mill Valley took its first victory of the season, a 14-1 pasting of still winless Bermuda Palms.

Don Lowpensky and John Benoitt each knocked three hits to lead the San Anselmo club to its big advantage. Joe Colfer hit a three-run home run for Novato in the fifth inning to start the comeback which fell a run short in the ninth inning.

Billings - Hutchison right fielder Ernie Demattei belted a grand slam homer in the first inning of Plumber loser Mike Telegin to start the Builders on their way. Demattei's shot carried into the Albert Field tennis courts and almost beaned some net enthusiasts there. He also singled with the sacks jammed for another three RBIs. B-H lefthander Bob DeRosa struck out 16 Plumbers and he, Dick Spackman, and Dan Fitzgerald each got three hits.

The Builders have scored 70 runs in their five games this season.

Presidio hurler Ken Weiss fanned 11 Dons and allowed only three hits while his teammates were gathering nine. Don Schlow and Sam Perkins each got two for the soldiers.

Mill Valley pitcher Keith Frazer struck out 21 Palms and lost his shutout in the ninth inning when Palm catcher Sam Williams blasted a long homer. Tom Austin and Sandy Slack each got three hits for the Merchants, and Kit Bricca and Jesse Munyon had two apiece. Austin knocked in five runs, while Munyon had threee more RBIs.

Nicklaus A 'Hungry' Champ

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Big Jack Nicklaus, at the tidy old age of 23 and after a spectacular amateur career, has added the Professional Golfers Assn. title to his 1962 U. S. Open championship and his 1963 Masters crown. It has left him happy but hungry for more.

"Sure I'm still hungry," the blocky, cherub-faced Columbus, Ohio, heavyweight said after a sizzling 3-under-par 68, capped by a title-winning 30-foot birdie putt on the 69th hole, had brought him from behind to the PGA crown by two strokes over Dave Ragan and three over Bruce Crampton and Dow Finsterwald.

"I'm in this game as a competitor and I want to win every time I play.

"When I get to the stage where I'm not hungry any more, then I don't see much point in playing. I don't think that time will come very soon."

"I've still got plenty to learn about golf," Nicklaus emphasized. "For one thing, I've never learned to get comfortable over a putt. I stand there and stand there and never feel quite right. I know I'm taking a long time but I just can't bring myself to putt fast.

"I'm going to have to work on developing some type of rhythm in putting — so that when I put the blade down behind the ball I know I have the putt lined up. I'm just thankful I hit enough good shots here to overcome all the bad putts I made."

In his rounds of 69-73-69-68 —279 on the 7,046-yard, par 36-35—71 Dallas Athletic Club course Nicklaus used 134 putts, which averages out to slightly more than 33 a round, and about 14 more than Jack's normal putting pace.

"I felt I could have made a 65 or 66 on the first round, about that or better on the secondround—I was playing that well," he said. "I thought it would take 275 to win here and I thought there would be a lot of fellows—certainly more than just four—under par for the four rounds."

UNDER PAR

Although sub-par golf turned up with more frequency in the third and fourth rounds, only Nicklaus at 279, Ragan at 281 after a closing 69, and Crampton and Dow Finsterwald, at 282 after shooting 74 and 72 respectively, were under par. Willowy Al Geiberger and Billy Maxwell matched it at 284, in a tie for fifth place.

The other two members of the Big Three—Gary Player and Arnold Palmer—had their troubles, although Player came back in the stretch with two good rounds and finished at 286. Palmer, weary and woeful, shot 74, 73, 73, 73—a duffer's pace for him—and wound up way back at 293.

The game's No. 1 money winner tied for 40th place and won $410. His bankroll dribbled up to $85,995 in official PGA money. Nicklaus, with his $13,000 pot o'gold, jumped into second ahead of U.S. Open champ Julius Boros with $75,140.

Metzger Winner Of Hub City Golf Tournament

Ralph Metzger won the championship flight of the San Anselmo Business Men's Golf Tournament at the Meadow Club last week by firing a 76-6-70, while Cy Donaldson shot the low gross, a 72.

Winners in the other flights:

Mayors flight: Richard Lamb (91-19-72); Hub City flight: Nick Georgedas (95-23-72); Red Hill flight: John Peterson (87-14-73); Guest flight: Bob Cunard (76-6-70).

49er Scrimmage Slated Saturday

MORAGA (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League went through a double workout today under the watchful eye of Coach Red Hickey in preparation for their first scrimmage next Saturday.

Forty-eight players were on hand for the first session yesterday, which included dummy drills in the morning and pass plays in the afternoon. Only seven players still are not in camp, but only TED Connolly among them is considered a holdout.

First Pan-Am Games

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UPI)—The first Pan American games were staged in Buenos Aires in 1951.

Solveig Is Last In Trans-Pac

HONOLULU (UPI)—An awards Banquet will be held tonight for the participants of the 1963 Trans Pacific Yacht Race.

The last of the 32 yachts which took part in the 2,225-mile race from San Pedro, Calif., to Hawaii crossed the finish line at Diamond Head yesterday afternoon.

The final vessel. the 38-foot ketch Solveig, completed the crossing in 17 days, 5 hours, and 39 minutes. Her corrected time was 13 days, 14 hours, 24 minutes and 30 seconds — which also was last in fleet standings.

Honors for overall winner of the biennial race will go to the 40-foot sloop Islander, which finished with a corrected time of 10 days, 5 hours, 56 minutes and 47 seconds.

Hollypark Winners

INGLEWOOD (AP)—Malicious, $6.20, and Nevada Bin, $17.80, won the two divisions of the $189,899 Hollywood Park Juvenile championship Saturday.

It seems to me . . .

VINDICATION FOR A REBEL

I can remember my early resistance days with something less than nostalgia, for resistance from youth is tolerated by no one, and constant bumps on the same spot begin to hurt. And, what right did a grimy little slum kid have to question anything about the status quo? After all, his old man was only an oil-smelling production worker and, do you know, the old duffer doesn't even speak English to his army of brats?

A little later, hunger drove me to peddling papers, a sure step to success, I had heard. There must have been an easier road, though, 'cause I'll bet darned few of today's big time operators still suffer vague twinges in a nose frozen a half dozen times in Detroit's unique winters. A couple of times, it got so cold, I accepted in desperation a challenge from the "Paper-weight champ of Michigan", to meet him in the Legion ring. The bruises on my battered body made me forget my cold nose.

You'd think I'd start conforming for Uncle Sam, but you don't reckon with this boy. My dad use to call me "hard head". After going AWOL every weekend (it was illogical to lie around the barracks just because some fuzzy-cheeked shavetail had a yen to play God), I walked right into his eager arms early one Monday morning, and wound up as an instructor in some hole deep in the wilds of Missouri.

The lesson plans some imbecile drafted for the instructors to follow were guaranteed to induce drowsiness in the most eager students in the classroom. I think the penalty for straying from these prepared scripts was up to death or worse—so, I didn't stray. I discarded them entirely, and my classes had a ball. My class average on all examinations was higher than any other class—but, I, a mere acting corporal, had the temerity to question regulations.

The Colonel had a heart—he didn't have me shot. Just shipped me to a combat outfit. One of my most cherished memories is the day, just a few weeks later, when I saluted this same marionette with an arm bearing the six stripes and diamond of a First Sergeant. He sputtered in frustrated disbelief, and I enjoyed the rest of the war in a continuing battle with the script-writers.

Today, I'm savoring another sweet triumph over the detractors who solemnly predicted certain failure for this nut who would try to run a volume auto dealership like Ames Ford profitably without resorting to the fast shuffle, double-talk, come-on gimmicks, and all the other tools of the trade. Some of the breathren in the business looked at me as if I weren't for real.

But, with Doug Cowan's full blessing and encouragement, and with heartwarming enthusiastic support from every manager and salesman, we at Ames Ford have been playing it straight. Even closed Sundays, much to the consternation of some dealers who are desperately trying to justify reopening. Result: Sales records broken every month, with June the best in our history. Wonder if they're still laughing?

ONE OF THREE INJURED—Robert F. Marage, one of three young persons injured in auto crash at Second and D streets in San Rafael, is placed on gurney by United Ambulance attendants Kenneth Miller (left) and Carl Jorgensen, and an unidentified (and shoeless) helpful bystander. # Three Injured As Two Cars Hit At Corner

Three persons were injured in a two-car crash yesterday at 2:32 a.m. at D and Second streets in San Rafael.

In good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital were Robert F. Marage, 18, of 5 Pleasant Lane, San Rafael, and Dean R. Ferrandini, 18, of 78 Scenic Avenue, San Rafael. Both had cuts on their faces.

Anthony G. Korpi, 19, of 152 Marina Boulevard, San Rafael, was treated at the hospital for cuts on his face.

Police said het three youths were in the same car, driver of which was not immediately identified. Marage told police that he was sitting in the back seat.

The car, traveling south on D Street, hit an auto being driven west on Second Street by Mrs. Mary Louise Wilder, 24, of 107 Piper Court. Mrs. Wilder said the small foreign car in which the youths were riding suddenly came into the intersection." The youths' car laid down 200 feet of skid marks.

Negro Leader Defends His Race's Right To Demonstrate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Humiliation stalks America's Negro citizens and they will not be dissuaded by talk that they are hurting their cause by demonstrating, Negro leader Roy Wilkins said today.

Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said their protest demonstrations are not subversive but "thoroughly American."

He expressed his views in testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee as it started a fourth week of hearings on the administration's public accommodations bill.

The bill, a key part of President John F. Kennedy's civil rights program, would require the desegregation of restaurants, hotels, stores, and other privately owned establishments serving the public.

Wilkins is the first Negro to testify at the committee's hearings. He vigorously challenged arguments of opponents that the bill would be an unconstitutional invasion of property and state rights.

"Is not the 'property rights' argument but an extension of the slave ownership argument?" he asked.

Similarly, he asked, "Shall we now continue to assert, in the world of the 1960s, that a state shall be permitted to mistreat United States citizens who live within its borders simply because they are not white?"

Wilkins said the public accommodations proposal "seeks to invoke protective legislative action in a most sensitive area where great numbers of citizens suffer daily—almost hourly — humiliation and denial simply because of their skin color."

Wilkins said that "the players in this drama of frustration are American citizens who "are in a mood to wait no longer, at least not to wait patiently and silently and inactively" for their full rights.

Govs. George Wallace of Alabama and Ross Barnett of Mississippi, at earlier hearings on the legislation, urged the committee to investigate what they termed Communist influences in the civil rights demonstrations.

But Wilkins said that "the resolute determination and action of our Negro citizens upon the civil rights issue constitute exemplary American conduct."

Man Leaps From Empire State Building

NEW YORK (AP)—A young man fought loose from a guard and jumped from the Empire State building today, plunging to the sidewalk from the 86th floor observation deck of the world's tallest building.

Police tentatively identified the victim as George Alex Frost, 35, address unknown.

The guard, Frank di Gesu, said he first saw the man standing on a ledge outside the protecting wall and fence around the observatory of the 102-story building.

Di Gesu said he tried to talk to the man who only shuffled away along the ledge.

Di Gesu said he twice reached through the fence and grabbed the man's leg, but the man kicked free.

Again the guard tried to talk him out of jumping and made one more grab for his leg, but the man sprang backwards to his death, Di Gesu said.

Household Fight Puts Sausalito Woman In Jail

A 32-year-old Sausalito woman was booked in Marin County Jail yesterday for allegedly assaulting another woman during a quarrel over "unwanted visitors" in their apartment.

Leonora W. Foster of 563 Bridgeway told Sausalito police she "had trouble in trying to throw out some friends" who were invited to the apartment by Geraldine Smith.

In a fight which developed, Miss Smith was struck on the head, and Miss Foster was hit by an ash tray, police said. Miss Foster was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment of a possible concussion, and Miss Smith was jailed.

Birmingham Integration Rehearing Is Denied

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Federal Appeals Court today rejected a requested rehearing of its order to the Birmingham, Ala., school board to start integration of public schools this September.

The board had asked for a re-hearing before all nine judges of the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals.

Chief Judge Elbert Tuttle of Atlanta polled all of the circuit judges to determine whether a rehearing should be ordered.

Only one judge called for a rehearing before the entire court.

The court also turned down requests today for temporary injunctions ordering immediate desegregation of public schools at Jackson and Biloxi, Miss., and in Leak County, Miss.

A 3-judge panel also declined to hold expedited hearings in the three cases.

The decision means that the Appeals Court will not consider the case until after its September term convenes.

In separate decisions, U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize of Gulfport had ordered the three suits dismissed. Attorneys for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, who represent the Negro plaintiffs in each of the suits, had filed the appeal.

Woman Gets Back Some Stolen Money

Louise G. Roche told Novato police she grabbed several rolls of coins from two boys as they attempted to walks out of Jim and Ken's TV Service, 1110 Grant Avenue, Novato, with the cash register money about 1 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Roche said she found one of the boys seated at her desk when she returned after a short absence. The boys left, and she saw the money was gone. She chased them and grabbed about $30 but had no way to hold the boys.

Governor Signs Bills To Halt Haphazard Growth

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has signed a series of bills designed to halt haphazard urban growth in California.

The four bills, asked by the governor in his inaugural message in January, aim at holding the line on "urban sprawl" by:

Ending the haphazard formation of new cities and service districts which create inefficient overlapping of government.

Encouraging sound urban planning to protect neighborhoods, preserve open space and promote industrial growth.

Promoting planning on a regional basis to solve problems of growth that go beyond city and county boundaries. "We cannot afford urban blight either in dollars and cents or in terms of the human costs . . ." Brown said.

Requests For Rezoning On Novato Plan Agenda

Five requests for rezoning, including one by John Novak to rezone 45 acres in south Novato from single family to commercial use, will be presented to the Novato Planning Commission when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Commissioners will set a hearing time for the rezoning request for the Novak property, bounded by Novato Creek, the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, Highway 101 and, on the north, by the property of Harkleroad and Clausing Construction.

Requests to rezone from single family to apartment use in the Sweetser Ranch subdivision will be made by Al Villa and Eugne McGillicuddy. Villa asks a change in one lot at 1040 Second Street; McGillicuddy asks rezoning for three lots on the southwest corner of Second and Vallejo streets.

Emilio Mirabelli will ask rezoning from limited agricultural to apartment use for three lots at Los Robles Road and Highway 101. A hearing date will be set for a request from Gus Ravetz to rezone 3.5 acres north af Adrienne Street between Hancock Street and Reservoir Drive from single family to apartment use.

Farm Surplus

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's hoard of grain and other farm produce continues to swell. Agriculture Department figures show value of stockpiles at the end of January rose 600 million dollars to a record 8.5 billion dollars. The previous peak was 8.2 billion dollars in March, 1959.

Gov., Mrs. Brown Leave Wednesday On Europe Trip

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. and Mrs. Edmund G. Brown will leave Wednesday on a trip that will take them to many cities in Europe. They will return Sept. 5.

The governor's party will leave by TWA Wednesday from Oakland. Thursday they will take a Pan American Airways plane from New York to Shannon.

They will continue to Dublin, London, Brussels, Paris, Nice, Rome and Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia.

From Dubrovnik they will go by boat to Venice, thence to Milan, Zurich, Geneva, Frankfort, Berlin and Paris

The return will be by TWA polar flight from Paris to San Francisco.

The governor and his wife will be accompanied by his press secretary, Jack Burbey.

Kathleen Haas To Become Bride In Fresno Ceremony

Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Haas of Fresno are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen, to Leroy Dedini of Ripon. Kathleen is the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. L. Haas of Inverness and of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Perkinson of Santa Barbara.

Kathy attended Pensionnat le Manoir in Switberland and Fresno City College and Fresno State College.

Leroy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter I. Dedini of Ripon. He was graduated from Modesto State College and is now stationed in the Army Medical Corps in San Antonio, Tex.

After the wedding on Aug. 27 at St. John's Cathedral in Fresno the couple will continue their studies.

A TICKLISH situation is pondered by Mr. John's model who wears his feathery enlongated silhouette for an evening topper. Worn forward over the brow, the hat is encrusted with jet beads, and adding a bit of fluttering elegance, the milliner attached a spray of long black mantilla black aigrette at back. (UPI photo)

A COMPLETE look is presented by Ilie Wacs with this ensemble done in a bulky, but soft, rust colored lacy English mohair. The three-piece ensemble includes a subtly tailored jacket, a gently shaped front falling freely over a dark green dress, and a seven-eighths-length coat matching the tweed jacket. (UPI photo)

We're A Snacking Society Household Survey Indicates

NEW YORK (UPI)—We've become a snacking society.

A study of American household eating habits shows that 26 per cent of all meals eaten at home during a six-month period last year were between-meal snacks. That's a six per cent increase over the comparable period five years earlier.

Fifty-three per cent of those snacks were eaten by women, 15 per cent of whom were in the 15 to 44-year age bracket. Men of comparable age accounted for only 10 per cent of between-meal snacks and 13 to 17-year-old boys, only four per cent.

THESE AND some other surprising statistics were revealed in the second national household menu census, a project covering 4,000 United States families. The Market Research Corporation of America, which made the census, says the consumer panel represents a cross-section of the U.S. population.

Despite the wide availability of commercial products, homemade versions of certain hot dishes still were preferred in many homs.

EIGHTY-FOUR per cent of all beef stew served in the households was homemade. So were 99 per cent of the creamed chipped beef, 90 per cent of the beef hash (not including corned beef hash), 100 per cent of the lamb stew, 97 per cent of the stuffed cabbage and 93 per cent of the stuffed peppers. Only commercial beef pot pie outranked the homemade variety, 81 per cent to 19 per cent.

The MRCA census indicated that we eat far fewer leftovers than many families suspect. Panelists reported that only seven per cent of the dishes served were leftovers.

Expensive or not, beefsteak is served at least once a week in low income homes, MRCA said. Forty-four per cent of the panelists with incomes under $4,000 a year said they served steak at least once a week, and those who served it at all ate it an average of more than twice weekly.

The kitchen, surprisingly, outranked other rooms as the favorite eating spot for all meals, although its popularity declined slightly in the five years from 1957 to 1962.

They're Ladies On The Links, Reports Pro Mickey Wright

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Friendly, chubby-cheeked Mickey Wright, who's considered America's top woman golfer, is one of the most even-tempered girls to swing a club.

But if there's one thing that will make her blue eyes flash in anger it's the suggestion that maybe professional women golfers aren't very feminine.

"Either you're feminine or you're not," retorts Mickey, who can draw herself up to an imposing 5 foot 9 and glare if necessary.

"I DON'T SEE WHAT golf has to do with it. The thing is, we're pursuing a male occupation and some people may think that makes us masculine. That's rather unjust. It's a misconception by people who have never taken the trouble to come out and see us and instead they decide that all women athletes are mannish.

"Actually," she goes on, and you can feel the slow grin coming, "you'd have to go into show business to find a better-looking group of women. We have a healthy tanned look, that's true. Maybe that's what they think is unfeminine."

MICKEY, BORN Mary Kathryn 28 years ago in San Diego, has been the leading money-winner among women golfers since 1961. This spring she won four tournaments in a row, and her goal is to become the first to lead the money earners three straight years.

Experts and women who've played with her almost invariably say that she plays a better all-around game and hits the ball longer than the late great woman athlete, Babe Didriksen Zaharias.

THE OTHER DAY, while playing in a tournament at Brookville, N.Y., Mickey sat down to answer some questions about herself:

Doesn't traveling from tourney to tourney interfere with a social life?

"No. We have a choice of just as much as we want. Lots of girls date quite a bit, others not at all. But we always have a social life built in, dinner together and going out with club members."

What about marriage?

"WELL, THAT'S A difficult area. It's an either-or situation. You either marry or you play golf. None of us are willing to give up golf right now. Oh, I guess a very few combine the two. But with my idea of marriage you can't. I don't think you can be away traveling 10 months out of the year and have a marriage. I came close to marrying a couple of years ago, but gave it up."

How do the girls get along?

"Amazingly well. But we have golf in common, you see—for most of us it's our life—and we have our organization, the Ladies Professional Golf Assn., that we're all interested in keeping strong."

HOW MUCH MONEY do you make a year?

"Between $25,000 and $35,000 from tourneys and tieups with manufacturers and being pro at the Oak Cliff Country Club in Dallas. I turn down some endorsements, but you don't have too many offers unless you have a manager who seeks them out for you."

When did you start playing golf?

"My father took me out to a club when I was 11 and had a pro start lessons. Dad is a 15-handicap player."

Are her parents proud of her?

"I hope they're proud of me. They're pretty nice people."

How long do you intend to play?

"I plan to stay in it about seven more years, until I'm 35. There should be a trend down about then. I hope I have enough sense to get out before I slip."

Bobbi Jean Eslick Exchanges Vows With John Paul Granlee

Bobbi Jean Eslick became the bride of John Paul Granlee of San Rafael at Petaluma Methodist Church at afternoon rites on July 7. The Rev. L. J. Mee officiated at the double ring ceremony, for which the bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride donned a gown of Chantilly lace with pearl trim with skirt of nylon net over satin ending in a chapel length train.

Maj-Lis Edelhammer of Petaluma was maid of honor, wearing a gown of lavender taffeta. The bridesmaids, Lynn Cella and Joan Jiacomini, both of Petaluma, also wore the lavender dresses.

Rich Kreloff of Novato was best man and the ushers were Frank Antonio and Lee Thompson of Novato.

The Petaluma Women's Club was the setting for the reception. The couple took a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe and will live in Novato.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hank Eslick of Petaluma, is employed by State Farm Insurance in Santa Rosa. She is the sister of Pamela Lee Eslick of Petaluma and the granddaughter of Henry Eslick of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Zamzow of Paso Robles.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Granlee of San Rafael. He attended Novato High School and is a student at the College of Marin. He is employed by C. and C. Automotive in Novato. He is the brother of Richard Granlee of San Rafael and of Michael Granlee, who is stationed with the Coast Guard at Port Angeles, Wash.

Mrs. Gene Anderson of Oklahoma City and R. L. Danner of Plainfield, Ind., are his grandparents.

Centuries Old Art Of Glass-Making Produces Crystal

By GAY PAULEY

KALMAR, Sweden (UPI) — An art centuries older than Christianity shaped that prized crystal vase in your living room, the tumblers or wine glasses brought to the dinner table on special occasions.

Visit glass factories in southeast Sweden and you come away with a whole new appreciation of glass which today we take for granted in its numerous forms—from the water glass to the mirror to the picture window to fine crystal to sculptured works in museums.

Mechanical means now make possible mass production of much of the glass which goes into the world's markets. But in many parts of Europe and a few centers in the United States — notably at Corning, N.Y., where the famous Steuben crystal is made—the hand-produced product still reigns supreme.

SWEDISH GLASSMAKERS produce all types of glass, but it is their crystal which has become known world-wide. Much of it is exported to the United States.

The chemist, the artist and the craftsman all combine their skills to produce that heavy crystal with its brilliance and bell-like ring when an edge is tapped sharply with the finger.

The origin of glassmaking lies with the ancients. The Swedish Glass Manufacturers' Assn., at Vaxjo, in the heart of the factory area, says it began as early as 5,000 B.C. But for 5,000 years it was used as a flexible mass, much the same as clay, to make decorative items. At about the time of the birth of Christ, the Phoenicians had learned how to blow glass. Glassmakers of Alexandria and later of Byzantium and Venice perfected the methods.

In Sweden, glass first was melted in 1556. Forty of the 46 glass factories of Sweden now center in the southeast part of the country where wood and water are plentiful.

The oldest factory is Kosta, founded in 1742, and, with Orrefors and Strombergshytta, all are known for high quality of workmanship and design.

SAND IS THE basic ingredient of glass. Sand melted with soda ash and lime produces the common flint glass. A finer quality results from use of potash instead of soda ash. The finest crystal consists of a melting of sand, potash and red lead.

The lead gives weight to the crystal, but the red color disappears during the melting. Substances such as saltpeter and arsenic, the latter used only in minute quantities, are also added to improve the melting and purify the glass. Different types of metal oxides added to the "batch"—the factory term for the sand mixture—produce different colors. Cobalt oxide, for instance, gives a blue tint; zinc oxide, a red hue.

Most of the ingredients used by the Swedes are imported—the sand from Germany and Belgium, the potash and soda ash from Germany, Belgium or France. But the lakes and rivers provide the water basic to the moulding and cooling process, and the forests the wood to stoke the furnaces.

THE MELTING PROCESS for a new batch of glass begins as soon as the day ends at the factory. Workers clean out the furnaces, or crucibles, of any residue—and then shovel in a new sand mixture.

Melting takes all night and by the start of the next work day, 6:30 a.m., has reached the thin liquid stage and from 2300 to 2400 Fahrenheit.

The "working" temperature—when the technician starts blowing—is a little lower, about 1900 Fahrenheit, and the glass has the consistency of syrup.

A spokesman at Orrefors explained that blowing is done by a team known as a "chair," consisting of seven to eight men, each with one task to perform. Head man is the gaffer, or foreman, and he has had at least 15 to 20 years of blowing before he rates his job. At some factories, master blowers were in their 40th and 50th year of experience.

Most of the tools for handblowing glass are the same today as they were 2,000 years ago — pipe, forming block, shears, pliers and wooden moulds.

The white hot glass is picked up from the furnace at the end of the pipe, hollow iron about one inch in diameter and five feet long, much the same way a housewife twists a bit of cooking fudge onto a spoon. The bubble of glass dipped out is no larger than an egg—and the blower doesn't take out large bubbles to produce a larger piece.

A CRAFTSMAN at Orrefors Glass Factory near Kalmar, Sweden, working from artist's design at right, etches a figure into a glass vase. (UPI Telephoto)

The craftsman starts with the small bubble, shapes it, dips it again into liquid glass, thus adding another layer, shapes again, and repeats the process until the desired size has been reached.

The same process is required if the designer wants more than one color — and sometimes you'll see three and four colors combined. Start with one shade, say clear crystal, shaping it as desired, then superimposing other layers in other colors.

The pipe onto which the molten glass is clinging is never still—it is kept in constant motion at this stage. Otherwise it would run just like melted butter.

THE GLASS IS GIVEN its shape by the skill and lung power of the blower, who blows into the pipe as if he were producing soap bubbles, by the sizzling wooden moulds into which the glass is dipped occasionally, by one hand padded with thick layers of wet newspaper gently moulding while the other hand twirls the pipe, by the forming block, and by the crude-looking shears sending slithering strings of glass to the floor as the worker cuts the molten mixture if the product is to be open at one end.

If a stem and foot are to be added, an assistant takes a small amount of glass just from the furnace, drops it onto the already shaped glass and shears off the amount needed. The stem and foot they are shaped with the same tools.

When a piece is finished, the foreman quickly cools a rim along its base with a pair of water-dipped pliers and then, a sharp blow with the plier handles and the piece breaks off cleanly.

IT NOW IS READY for the cooling chamber. It is fed by conveyor belt into a long, tunnel-like oven heated by electricity. This oven, or lehr, holds the glass from three to four hours and removes the thermal stress.

Other processes in handling the cooled glass include smoothing rough edges of such as wine glasses by another heat process—a flame from a gas jet burner licks the edges of each glass as it moves along a conveyor.

Cutting and engraving are other finishing touches. Cutting is done in stages and the design on, say, glasses for table use is marked first by a red line in the hands of another technician.

One expert does a rough cutting first, with sand and iron disk. Cutting wheels get finer as the glass moves to the finished stage.

ENGRAVERS WORK from the design of artists, but between blower, engraver and artist, there is a constant collaboration. As Mrs. Eric Stromberg, widowed owner of Strombergshyttan, and its chief designer put it, "the furnace is the heart of the glass. It is from there that all must work."

Engraving is done with the aid of copper wheels fed with oil and emery powder and can be anything from a simple figure cut into a cigarette box to elaborate carvings.

Brother And Sister Both Take Mates

Married within five days of each other this month were the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Nault of San Anselmo.

Marilyn Diane Nault became the bride of James Conner Cox of Soledad on July 7 at the Fairfax Community Church. The double ring ceremony was performed at 2 p.m. by the Rev. James Sherman.

When the bride was given in marriage by her father, she was wearing a short dress of white nylon over taffeta with bell skirt. Her attendants were Jerry Booher of Fairfield, Diane Hoover of Whittier and Sandy Toso of Berkeley. They were gowned identically in azalea pink dresses fashioned similarly to that of the bride.

Best man was Kim Stevenson of Vacaville, and ushers were Lon Gallagher, Dick Williams and Douglas Thair, all students at the University of California at Davis.

After the ceremony a reception was held in Berger Hall at the Church, and the couple left afterward for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. They are now living in Davis, where both are continuing their education.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School. Her grandmother is Mrs. Gordon Lee of San Francisco.

James was graduated from high school in Soledad. He is the son of Mrs. Lois Wiley of Los Angeles and the brother of Mrs. Robert Collins.

Marilyn's only brother, Lowell Raymond Nault, claimed Loretta Ann Kushall of Woodbury, N.Y., as his bride on July at the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Ithaca, N.Y.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kushall of Woodbury.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 10 a.m. by the Rev. John Flynn.

Loretta, or Letty, as she is known to everyone, wore a short white cotton dress trimmed with embroidery and nylon insets.

A wedding dinner at the Ithaca Hotel followed the ceremony, and the couple spent their honeymoon at Lake George. They are living in Ithaca, where both are studying at Cornell University.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and the University of California at Davis. He is now doing graduate work in entomology at Cornell.

His bride was graduated from high school in Philadelphia and is working toward a master's degree in the biological sciences in preparation for a career in teaching.

Mr. and Mrs. Nault went to Ithaca for their son's wedding.

Noel Gene Beard Exchanges Vows With Louis Hayes Jr.

At an afternoon ceremony on July 6 Noel Gene Beard became the bride of Louis Collins Hayes Jr. at the First Presbyterian Church in Marin City at a double ring ceremony. The Rev. Donald H. Schilling officiated.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moses E. Beard of Marin City, was given in marriage by her father. She recited vows wearing a white slipper satin gown styled with bell shaped skirt and matching jacket.

Her sister Gail Beard of San Francisco was maid of honor and Maxine Kennedy of Menlo Park was the bridesmaid. They wore lavender taffeta dresses with matching Chantilly lace jackets.

The little flower girl was Melanie Annette Johnson of San Francisco.

The bridegroom's brother, Roland Hayes of Marin City, was best man, and escorting the guests to seats was Brian Beard, the bride's brother.

Following the nuptials a reception was given at the Community Center in Marin City. The newlyweds are residing in Hilarita.

Noel was graduated from Tamalpais High School and attended the College of Marin. She is employed at the Presidio in San Francisco.

Louis, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Hayes of Braxton, Miss., was graduated from Harper's Vocational High School and he attended Pineywoods Junior College in Mississippi. He is now employed by Barrett Construction Co. He is the brother of Alvin Hayes of Marin City.

To Pleat Skirts

Home sewing enthusiasts can now make perfectly pleated skirts expertly without the need of any measuring devices or complicated pinning or basting. A new one-inch wide buckram band already pleated does the job of making knife pleats, unpressed pleats, box pleats, clusters or hip line pleats.

Broxton-Russell Nuptials

Stockton is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howel L. Broxton (Bonnie Russell) who were married at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Russell of Novato, wore a white nylon net gown with Chantilly lace panels for the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Peter Farmer of Carmel, formerly of Novato.

Janet Thomas of Novato was maid of honor. Her dress was blue Irish linen with modified bell skirt.

Elizabeth Allen of San Francisco, Margaret Haapala of Davis, Nancy Iddings of El Cerrito, the bride's cousin, were bridesmaids. They also wore blue Irish linen.

Melvin Slocum of Stockton was best man. Ushering were Richard Allen of San Francisco, John Dorothy of Stockton, Sam Young and Louis Frederickson of Novato.

After the wedding a reception was given at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax. The couple traveled to Lake Tahoe for a wedding trip.

Bonnie was graduated from Novato High School and from the University of Pacific in June, where she was a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, Spurs, Knolens and Phi Kappa Phi honorary. She will teach elementary school in Stockton in September.

Howel is the son of Maj. and Mrs. H. L. Broxton of Colorado Springs, Colo. He was graduated from Novato High School and the College of Marin and is employed by the Crocker-Anglo Bank in Stockton. He is the brother of Jan and Allan Broxton.

The Artist--'A VIP Who Can Change Culture'

Second in a series of articles on Marin's working women.

By DOROTHY NEWELL

From a life as a daughter of talented parents, to working as a domestic and again to a life as a successful painter, teacher, lecturer and writer is the story of Mrs. Nevin Kempthorne of Novato.

ARTIST NEVIN KEMPTHORNE is putting all her efforts into teaching at her Novato studio this summer. A teacher of art for 30 years, she currently is instructing some 135 students. But life has not always been so pleasant for the artist. (Independent-Journal photo)

THE CREDO OF this talented woman is in her "pledge to art." She states "I believe that art is not merely a social confection or toy; for, in the act and evolvements of art, we are presented with pictures of the actual 'breathing in and breathing out' of being. It is a simple fact that life and art cannot exist without each other, since each deals with the projection and manifestation of the principle of creation.

"Therefore, I dedicate my efforts towards my most articulate observance of that principle in what I seek to project in my paintings; trying to express my gratitudes; hoping to share, record or restore the appreciations that are sometimes overlooked or forgotten, always cherishing the beauty of realty."

NEVIN WAS BORN in Napa, but was reared in Hong Kong, where her father, Ray E. Gunn was manager of Dollar Steamship Lines. Her mother was a composer, lecturer and poetess, so Nevin comes by her talents naturally.

She won an art scholarship to the Cleveland School of Art while studying painting with Sidney Bell, a British painter.

Her feelings are very strong on the part art plays in our way of life.

"AN ARTIST IS a VIP who can change our culture," she said. Artists are the pace setters."

Mrs. Kempthorne said that "abstract art places the emphasis on feeling." In her brochure for new students she states that she is interested in helping the classes produce optimistic and tasteful projections. "Depressed or angry work will not be aided," she said.

SHE IS WRITING a book "Artist Be True" in which she explains her theories, and also "Art, the Pattern-Maker of Society." Some of the chapter headings in "Artist Be True" are Society's Hidden VIP, Art and Civic Impact, Art and Religion and Back to Creation and Truth.

In "Art the Pattern-Maker of Society" her key summation is "Art is philosophy, a strong pattern-maker of society. It designs the flag a country salutes and it is the key to civilization's past and future."

In a statement to her students, Nevin said, "in my opinion the world is weary of agitations and unanswered questions, games of whim and pranks of distortion. I, myself, have turned back to the gratitudes and hunger for serenities. I wholeheartedly admit the existence of creation that is far better than I can presume to exceed in what I fashion, and I am quite willing to "specialize" in recording articulate records of those gratitudes for what I can see and give and emulate. My teaching is motivated by my desire to help others find those same gratitudes and joy."

NEVIN ADDS, "Therefore, I teach logic, order, articulation, harmony, balance, perspective and all the attributive elements in painting that I feel man needs to learn to be able to express himself clearly and happily."

MRS. KEMPTHORNE has had art classes in St. Helena, Napa and Vallejo. She also has a studio in her home in Novato. However, she will put all her efforts into her studio this summer. She has taught art for the past 30 years and now has 135 students.

But life has not always been as pleasant as it is for Nevin now in the spacious home and studio at 60 Grove Ln., Novato.

After a business loss, nine years ago, Nevin and her husband, Selwyin, were forced at one time to live in a tent on a friend's estate. "I had to swallow my pride and accepted any type of work, which included scrubbing floors and helping in the homes of friends, while my husband dug ditches."

NEVIN RECALLED painting a portrait of a prominent San Rafael man and then cooking and serving dinner in the same home the evening that the man received it as a birthday gift from his wife.

Nevin always had an art student, even during the time that they were down on their luck.

She has three children, now married. They are Bruce MacDiarmid of Greenbrae, Mrs. Mary Bradley of Larkspur and Mrs. Barbara Odle in Texas.

"I NEVER WANTED my girls to become artists," Mrs. Kempthorne said. "Marriage and painting are like oil and water, they just don't mix. If the light is just right, housecleaning must be given up for painting," she added.

Another member of the Kempthorne household is Tina, their little dog. Mrs. Kempthorne said the only friends Tina will make are those that have the smell of turpentine and linseed oil.

NEVIN FOUNDED the Novato Art Guild which now has 50 members, when she moved to Novato from Mill Valley two years ago. She said the Novato Guild is unique in that the group insists on jurying every piece of work to be hung.

The members' improvement has been tremendous, she said. Some of the artists have brought their paintings back as many as four or five times as they have made the corrections.

As the art colony grows in Novato, it will be due largely to the talents and efforts of Nevin Kempthorne.

RENTERS

Why get "slugged" with taxes? Own your own condominium-apartment and take advantage of substantial tax savings denied renters.

Check off this list of advantages . . .

1. Very low cash investment (12% down).
2. No additional investment in such "extra" furnishings as drapes, carpeting, refrigerator.
3. No yard work . . . not even a pool to clean. It's all done for you at a monthly charge (including your utilities and insurance) of $29.71.
4. Tax advantages. Through condominium ownership you get substantial write-off for interest and taxes paid out. How much better than a pile of cancelled rent checks.
5. Through ownership, your monthly payments build up equity. At resale you stand an excellent chance for substantial capital gain.
6. Brand new; compact; convenient to transportation and shopping. The new EMPORIUM nearby.
7. Community living at its finest. Swimming pool, recreation room, congenial friends.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS
Bid No. 198

Notice is hereby given that the City Board of Education, the Governing Body of the San Rafael School Districts, Marin County, California, will receive bids for furnishing all labor, materials, transportation and services for work in connection with constructing an open front wood and concrete block equipment storage building on the property of the San Rafael High School District in San Rafael, California.

Bid shall be in accordance with the plan, specifications and other Contract Documents now on file with the Superintendent of Schools, Business Office, Administration Building, San Rafael City Schools, 215 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, California. Said plan and specifications may be examined and copies obtained at the offices of the Architects, located at 1539 Fourth Street, San Rafael, California.

Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the statutes of the State of California or local laws thereto applicable, the City Board of Education, Governing Body of the San Rafael School Districts, has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract which will be awarded to the successful bidder.

A schedule of the prevailing rates so determined has been approved by the City Board of Education of the San Rafael School District and filed with the Secretary of the said Board in the offices of the San Rafael School District, and said schedule is as follows:

MARIN COUNTY BUILDING & CONSTRUCTION TRADES COUNCIL RATES PER HOUR Bricklayers: Journeymen $5.00, 8 1/63 $5.20; Hodcarriers $3.95; Foreman (1 hour per day additional at Journeyman rate); Carpenters: Journeymen $4.10; Foremen $4.60; Cement Masons: Journeymen $4.00; Foremen $4.33; Ironworkers: Journeymen or Structural $4.75; Ornamental $4.75; Reinforcing Rodmen $4.50; Laborers: Group I $3.575; Group II $3.425; Group III $3.325; Sheet Metal Workers: Journeymen (Inc. 25¢ hr. vac.) $4.73; Foremen (Inc. 29¢ hr. vac.) $5.20.

It shall be mandatory upon the contractor to whom the contract is awarded and upon any subcontractor under him, to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Notice is hereby given that all bidders may submit with their bids a sworn statement of their financial responsibility, technical ability and experience. Such sworn statement may be required to be furnished before award is made to any particular bidder.

Bids shall be made out on forms obtained at the business office, Administration Building, San Rafael City Schools, 215 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, California, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, cash or bid bond, for ten (10%) per cent of the amount of the bid, made payable to the San Rafael School District, and shall be sealed and clearly marked "Bid 198 Equipment Shelter, Maintenance Equip., San Rafael School District, Marin County, California" and filed with the Secretary of the City Board of Education at the offices of the San Rafael School District, 215 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, California, on or before August 6, 1963, at 7:30 P.M., and will be opened publicly and read aloud at that time, on that day, in the office of the City Board of Education, San Rafael School District, 215 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, Calif.

The above-mentioned check or cash or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the Contract if awarded to him and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said Contract after being requested to do so by the San Rafael School District.

The San Rafael School District reserves the right to reject any and all bids or waive any informality in the bids. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

Moves To Abolish Death Penalty Lose

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Moves by state legislatures to abolish the death penalty or to give courts more leeway to impose long prison terms for capital crimes attracted few political supporters this year and lawmakers rejected most proposals.

The unenthusiastic response may have reflected public indignation at sensational killings by such persons as George R. York and James D. Latham, AWOL soldiers who admitted slaying eight persons in a 1961 cross-country spree. They were sentenced to hang in Kansas.

An unusually large number of bills was introduced, however, apparently stemming from public interest in such celebrated capital punishment cases as those involving Paul Crump in Illinois and Caryl Chessman in California.

A survey showed capital punishment bills were considered in at least 19 states.

The most significant change was made by New York lawmakers, who ended the mandatory death penalty for premeditated murder. The state was the last to drop the penalty.

Proposals for the outright repeal of capital punishment were considered and turned down in at least nine states. That means that for two more years Wisconsin, Maine, Minnesota, Hawaii and Alaska continue as the only states without the death penalty.

Anti-capital punishment backers undoubtedly received severe setbacks from the York-Latham case and from such wholesale killers as Charles Starkweather, the 19-year-old Nebraska ex-garbage hauler, and Connecticut's mad dog slayers, Joseph Taborsky and Arthur Culombe. They accounted for 17 victims.

Starkweather and Taborsky were electrocuted. Culombe is serving a life term.

Moves to abolish the death penalty, regarded as gaining strength in both states, weakened. Nebraska's lawmakers let a capital punishment repeal bill die in committee. Connecticut rejected a move to retain the death penalty only for persons convicted a second time of first degree murder.

Other states which rejected capital punishment repealers included Utah, New Hampshire, Texas, Oregon, Arkansas, Illinois, Massachusetts and California.

Massachusetts lawmakers have been overruled for the present by Gov. Endicott Peabody, who has announced he will commute any death penalty imposed while he is in office.

Iowa, Montana, Tennessee and Vermont were among states where proposals to restrict capital punishment to fewer crimes were rejected.

More than 20 states considered death penalty measures in 1961 sessions, but none of any importance was enacted.

The death penalty, introduced from Europe where it became common in the Middle Ages, is carried out in the United States by hanging, shooting, deadly gas or electrocution. In Utah the condemned are given a choice of the rope or the firing squad.

In Michigan, the death penalty may be used only for treason in wartime. North Dakota may execute for treason, and for murder by a life-term verdict. In Rhode Island death is prescribed only when a lifer commits murder in prison.

The 42 other states, the District of Columbia and the federal government have capital punishment powers.

In 1961, the latest year for which the Bureau of Prisons has complete records, there were 42 executions by civil authority. That year, the FBI reported 8,600 murder and non-negligent homicide cases. The 1961 total, lowest in 31 years, was down from 57 executions the year before.

Among this year's moves to outlaw the death penalty, that in California is noteworthy because it stems from controversy over the execution in 1960 of Caryl Chessman, a long-time occupant of death row.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown backed abolition of the penalty for the fourth time since he took office in 1958, but a proposed four-year moratorium, after passing the California assembly, was killed by a senate committee.

Legislation calling for a six-year moratorium was rejected by lawmakers in Illinois, where Gov. Otto Kerner saved Crump, a condemned killer, from the electric chair by commuting his sentence to 199 years. Crump had been sentenced to die seven years earlier.

Dedicated leaders of the fight against the death penalty say it is as wrong, morally, for the state to kill a citizen as it is for a murderer to take a life. They argue the death penalty is not a crime deterrent.

Lawmakers in Florida and Oklahoma, unwilling to tackle the issue headon, set up interim committees to study it. Florida electrocutes its criminals; Oklahoma uses the gas chamber.

Large appeared to support the death penalty repealer in Texas. Demonstrators, including the small children of a man under the death sentence, picketed the state capitol.

The Oregon legislature voted to place before the voters a proposed amendment removing the death penalty provisions from the state's constitution. It will be on the ballot in November 1964.

A 100-year-old law setting 10 years as the minimum age for executions in Georgia has been changed to restrict the penalty to those 17 years of age or older.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Everyone Has Moles Somewhere On Body But Few Become Cancerous

VAN DELLEN

It has been said that every person has at least one mole — and we all know some who harbor dozens. Moles prefer the face but arise on any part of the body. The ordinary small mole (pigmented nevus) is a birthmark. It is not necessarily present at birth but may appear months or years later.

Nevi are developmental abnormalities that occur long before birth. Nature misplaces pigment cells and hair follicles which, in turn, become overactive and form small tumors in the skin.

EVERYONE KNOWS moles are potentially dangerous, that they can become malignant, and that an irritated mole may become cancerous. Malignancy ought to be suspected when the lesion grows in size or changes in color. All of this is true but the danger has been exaggerated to such an extent that many persons are overly concerned about their moles.

Few nevi undergo cancerous degeneration, considering the millions of men and women with these tumors. Furthermore, no one knows which mole will become malignant when irritated, though the slate-gray, black, and blue varieties that contain pigment are likely candidates. They may change into melanomas, a serious but rare form of cancer.

ORDINARY BROWN, raised, fleshy moles on the face seldom become malignant. Many persons have heard that treatment may irritate these lesions and refuse to have eliminated a blemish that detracts from their appearance. Removal for cosmetic reasons is fully justified.

There is almost as much folklore about pigmented birthmarks as there is about the treatment of moles. For many generations, women believed they developed because the mother was frightened during pregnancy. Before the turn of the century, runaway horses were blamed frequently, but the popularity of the horseless carriage changed this concept. We never hear of a birthmark that looks like a Cadillac.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

BOY'S PRESSURE

C. D. M. writes: I'm an obesity patient and my blood pressure ranges from 140 to 168 over 40. I'm 13 years old and don't smoke or drink. Is this pressure normal, high, or very high?

REPLY

High—at age 13—except for the diastolic pressure of 40. You are a little too young to be concerned about blood pressure, and if you eat more sparingly, all your problems will be solved.

SPLEEN REMOVAL

C. G. S. writes: My son was injured in a car accident and had to have his spleen removed. Will it be necessary to have his blood checked ever so often?

REPLY

Not if it is normal at the present time. The exact function of the spleen is not known but no harm comes from removal of the organ because all of its activities seem to be shared by other tissues of the body.

BURNING AFTER SHOTS

Mrs. C. W. writes: I have to take shots of vitamin B12 once a week. Could these injections account for smarting and burning of the skin, especially over the legs and ankles?

REPLY

Yes; side reactions may occur after the injection of almost anything.

SINUS POLYP

W. N. writes: What can be done about a sinus polyp?

REPLY

Let it alone or have it removed. The decision depends upon the amount of discomfort it gives you.

BRUCELLOSIS

E. R. writes: what diet should be followed in undulant fever?

REPLY

A normal diet, depending upon appetite. This is not a nutritional disease; it is caused by the Bucella organisms.

Wine Is Effective As Medicine For Man

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—For some 4,000 years physicians have known wine could be effective medicine for many ills but only in the past 20 years or so have scientists understood some of the whys and the hows of it.

That's reason for both wonderment and hope to Dr. Salvatore P. Lucia who is a highly regarded medical scientist, a professor of medicine, and a conspicuous scientific friend of the vine.

His wonder is that in such a short time the "experimental method," which is backbone of modern science, has given scientific backing to accumulated medical folklore and "superstitions" of the ages as they bear on wine as a remedy for whatever ails you.

He is pleased that scientific experiments have shown it is not the alcohol in wine which performs tricks. That would have been a dubious explanation of its medicinal powers. Rather science has shown other ingredients are responsible although not all are identified.

Lucia's hope rises from that. "The book of the constituents of wine has been opened," he said, "and there is being accumulated a definitive literature on the precise effects of these constituents on human cells, tissues and organs."

Lucia has published his second book on wine as medicine in nine years. The new one is "A History of Wine as Therapy" (Lippincott, Philadelphia). He is professor of medicine and chairman of the Department of Preventive Medicine at University of California Medical Center, San Francisco.

"Modern controlled research has succeeded in discovering, at least in part, why and how certain wines produce their diverse nutritive, cardiovascular, appetite-stimulating, stomachic, diuretic and antibacterial effects, and how wine serves the deep psychological need of mankind for relief from tension and stress," he said.

"These findings have already led to new and unexpected applications in the prevention and treatment of disease. There is already clear evidence that specific wines are useful as therapeutic aids in uncomplicated cases of diabetes, in simple anemias, in such digestive disturbances as the malabsorption syndrome, in the initial treatment of alcoholic cirrhosis, in minimizing acidosis in certain kidney conditions, in the treatment of anorexia, in relieving the infirmities and suffering which accompany old age, and in combating many of the diseases in which anxiety and tension are among the underlying factors."

He blamed the prohibition movement for science not having discovered the whys and hows of wine as medicine generations ago. It scared investigative scientists with demon alcohol propaganda. But from the beginning of history man has been dosing himself medically with wine.

In elaborate detail Lucia traced these uses from 4,000 B.C. to the present. Whole schools of medicine were based upon wine. As early as the second century after Christ the great physician, Galen, was classifying wines by types and recommending them for specific physiological effects.

There was plenty of outlandish medicines involving wine, of course, Lucia said. For centuries all sorts of useless junk were mixed into it. In the 16th century one such mixture contained 250 additives including pearls, coral, and powdered parts of vipers.

"How can he be alive if he left his heart in San Francisco?"

Jr. College Fund Bill Is Signed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown signed into law Friday a bill providing for the distribution of 20 million dollars in bond funds to California junior colleges.

Brown said the funds provided by the bill by Sen. Walter W. Stiern (D-Bakersfield) were "vitally needed to meet the urgent construction needs of the state's burgeoning junior college population."

The funds will come from a bond issue approved by voters last November. The bill also provides for a study of junior college needs over the next 10 years.

Teen-Age Work Camp Openings

The Marin County YMCA Teen-age Work Camp still has openings for 12 boys, ranging in age from 13 to 16 years, it was announced today by Donald Porter of Mill Valley, acting executive of Marin "Y."

The camp will begin Saturday with 30 boys participating in the forestry work camp. It will last two weeks, including activities such as swimming, hiking and vocational training under a professional forester.

Applications for the camp, which will be held in the Santa Cruz Mountains at the Y's 972-acre site, should be submitted to the YMCA office, 1009 Irwin Street, San Rafael, immediately, said Porter.

Texas Raises Most Greyhounds At Denton

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The Texas Parade magazine reports Texas raises more greyhounds than any other state, but dog racing is illegal in the state.

The largest greyhound farm in the world, the Parade says, is at Denton, in North Texas. The dogs, of which 600 or more are in residence at the farm at one time, bring $300 to $500 puppy price and up to $5,000 for a good mature stud.

Press Conference Set

William M. Roth, 100 Spencer Avenue, Sausalito, new owner of the old Ghirardelli Chocolate factory in San Francisco, will hold a press conference at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the factory to announce plans for development of the square block of 70-year-old buildings.

Rabies Clinic Set For Mill Valley

The next clinic for rabies vaccinations for dogs in Marin County is set for 6 to 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Mill Valley corporation yard, Sycamore Avenue near Camino Alto.

Two other clinics, sponsored by the County Health Department, are scheduled for Thursday at 920 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, and next Monday, at Marion School, Novato.

Dogs more than four months old are required by state law to have rabies inoculations. Dogs vaccinated since Jan. 1, 1962, need not get new vaccinations this year for licensing.

Golden Gate College President To Speak

Dr. Russell T. Sharpe of 59 Golden Hind Boulevard, San Rafael, president of Golden Gate College in San Francisco, has been invited to be guest speaker at the Top Management Seminar of the United States Army Management Engineering Training Agency in Rock Island, Ill.

Russell will speak Wednesday on "Human Relations in Management."

Cost Going Up

SANTA CLARA (AP) — The University of Santa Clara will raise its tuition $100 a year every other year for the next decade, beginning in September 1964. Present tuition is $1,000.

NEW INSURANCE BUILDING STARTED

This two-story structure, under construction at the corner of D and Taylor Streets, San Rafael will provide new offices for the State Farm Insurance Agency now located at 803 D Street. The building was designed by Wagstaff and McDonald of San Anselmo for owners Charles Robertson and James Dougan, who are associated with Colin G. Hill in the insurance agency. State Farm will occupy a portion of the ground floor, with the balance to be leased for professional use. The second floor will contain three apartment units. Completion is expected by Oct. 1. Richard R. Pelton is general contractor.

WEEKEND WEATHER ADDS UP

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The American love affair with the family car is making weekend weather an economic force in many businesses, large and small.

If the weather was miserable in your area the last few days, the effect might be felt in time as far away as Detroit and Akron or the oil fields of Texas—and certainly was noted sadly by dealers, resort keepers, highway restaurants and motels, both near you and some distance away.

66 MILLION

The United States has so many family cars—some 66 million, or 60 per cent of the world's total—that it is the only nation that can carry all its population at the same time (at some three persons to a car).

And if the weather was good this past weekend in your area, and you were on the highway, you may have thought all 66 million were out there, too.

An entire summer of especially poor or good weather could mean a variation of up to 10 billion vehicle miles of highway travel. Such an extreme case would mean a difference of about 700 million gallons of gas burned up, 350,000 tires worn out, and perhaps 300 million meals at roadside eateries.

SUN LOTION

Also affected by weekend weather are many things, from the sale of bikinis and sun lotion to the picnic supplies and car rental services.

For example, makers of suntan or sunburn lotions and creams have raised their annual sales from seven million 10 years ago to 14 million dollars last year. Whether this summer's weekends are fair or dreary can have a lot to do with the industry's reaching its 1963 sales goal of 20 million dollars.

The 1.7 billion dollars a year motel industry is particularly sensitive to family decisions to take off for a long weekend jaunt or to stay home because of the weather. Some 45,000 motels and motor hotels, with 960,000 rooms, have a national yearly average occupancy of 69 per cent. Good weather can raise this by 1 per cent and given an even greater boost to profits.

Resort hotels suffer from a prolonged wet spell, but motels are even more sensitive to weekend weather prospects. As Per capita use of paper and paperboard in the United States in 1926 rose to 457 pounds, highest in the world.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

New Business Stores Information Of Emergency Nature On Families

Something new in the way of new businesses:

EMERGENCY AID BOARD. This is a membership of International Projects Corp. of San Francisco headed by C. Winthrop Forbush Jr., a San Francisco insurance general agent, recently moved to Marin County. He organized the business last April.

It acts as a storage and clearing house for emergency information on the entire family to be used for identification and help in the event of accident, sickness, robbery of any member while away from home, or where immediate notification is required. Round the clock service is furnished.

Identification cards are issued to the entire family; neck tags to the children. Registrant files a complete record of relatives or others to be notified, special medical requirements, blood types, names of family physician and attorney, hospital and medical coverage, employer, etc.—everything possible to facilitate emergency action by police officials or others in a crisis.

Membership now is about 4,000. Forbush hopes to cover the entire country with the service. Marin County registration director is Ted Hughes of Ignacio. Registration and membership fees nominal.

MARIN TOURS. A worthy enterprise of Melanie Brown of Belvedere, former real estate saleswoman, who says she has shown clients around the county so much she knows all the sideroads and points of interest.

Mrs. Brown uses her own car and can take a maximum of four people by the day, half-day or hour in any direction. She has checked out requirements of the Board of Equalization, Public Utilities Commission and insurance for her service.

Marin Tours is a new phone listing—you'll have to get the answering service number through information, or through Alta Mira Hotel or Edgewater Inn.

NEWSPAPERMAN-AUTHOR John M. (Jack) Eshleman of Mill Valley is now associated with David F. Selvin in advertising and public relations at 593 Market Street, San Francisco.

O. T. VAN HOUGHTON of Terra Linda has been named representative of Lincoln National Life Insurance Co. in the San Rafael area. He is an experienced life underwriter.

DON H. PURDY of San Rafael, head of the "castle in Spain" group of Marin investors, is back from Barcelona, clutching a signed lease with an option to buy the historic Castillo Santo Domingo. He's also bountifully supplied with enthusiasm over the entire project and will probably get back to the castillo by the fall season.

Purdy, who traveled through several parts of Spain making contacts in the course of his investigations, had with him a pocketful of references. Of all these, he says, the most dramatically effective was one signed by Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, with an imposing gold seal on it.

"Ah, un official!" was the apologetic response when he produced it in desperation after cooling his heels in one dignitary's outer office.

He was inside in less time than it takes to tell about it.

Annual Horse Show Slated For Sunday

The fourth annual open horse show will be held at 8 a.m. Sunday at the Southern Marin Horsemen's Assn. arena at Project 17, Mill Valley. Sponsors are the association and the Mill Valley Optimist Club.

Anyone may compete in the show in which junior classes will be held. Trophies will be given first place winners and ribbons to first through sixth place winners. Mrs. Nancy Lowenthal of Mill Valley is English judge, Joseph Messer of Petaluma, Western judge. Entries are now closed.

Classes are as follows: (1) trail horses, open; (2) Western equitation, equitation, 13 and under; (3) Western equitation; (4) Western equitation, 18 and over; (5) Western pleasure, open; (6) pot luck pairs, open; (7) Southern Marin Horsemen's Assn. halter class, open only to SMHA members; (8) Western bareback, open; (9) English equitation, 13 and under; (10) English equitation, 14 and over; (11) English pleasure, open, and (12) English bareback, open.

California Lead's Big

NEW YORK (UPI)—California has surpassed New York as the state with the most people employed in wood working industries, the American Forest Product Industries said today.

Larkspur Triplex Bid Is On Agenda

Robert Busse will ask approval to convert a duplex at 18 Walnut Avenue into a triplex when the Larkspur Planning Commission meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall.

R. L. Hamann will ask for a use permit to convert a house at 501 Cane Street into a private school for accelerated pupils 5 and 6 years old.

R. J. Lampky seeks permission to convert a parcel of Hillside land on Sunrise Lane into two lots of 8,970 and 7,810 square feet respectively, both larger than the present legal minimum size.

The commission may get to further discussion of proposed amendments to the recently passed zoning ordinance.

Larkspur Library Unit Elects

Mrs. Wilbur Lewis of 402 Alexander Avenue is the new chairman of the Larkspur Library Board, succeeding Mrs. Robert Bowen.

Mrs. Frederic L. Brenlin of 64 Via Barranca, Greenbrae, was elected secretary.

The library now has a total of 17,905 volumes, 1,024 more than a year ago, even after weeding out about 300 books, Librarian Helen Wilson reported.

Mrs. Wilson said 2,636 adults and young people and 1,124 children have library cards—53.7 per cent of Larkspur's population.

There will be no board meeting in August. The board next will meet at 10:30 a.m. Sept. 3 in the library.

Flying Low

NEW YORK (UPI)—The travel agency industry estimates 30 per cent of all air travelers to Europe this year will fly under low-price charters or group fares, more than double the number last year.

Pupils, Fathers To Work On San Clemente Field

San Clemente School pupils and their fathers will spend all day Aug. 17 on the schoolgrounds east of Highway 101 in Corte Madera starting work on a turfed field for family use, Principal Robert Johnson announced today.

"We have hills of top soil in the southwest corner of the school grounds, waiting for money to buy pipe and hire bulldozers to start the field," said Johnson.

"Some manpower plus two rented loaders should be able to make a large dent in the project."

He said some of the money for rental of the two loaders will come from the parent-teacher association and he hopes to get other funds from the Larkspur School District.

"There will be food and refreshments as well as the exercise available," said Johnson.

Mill Valley Legion Get Welfare Award

Mill Valley Post 284, American Legion, was awarded an oversize silver loving cup emblematic of the best child welfare program in Northern California for 1962-63 at the legion's department convention in San Bernardino.

The cup was presented to Mrs. Persis Stanley of Mill Valley, post commander.

Windows Broken By B-B Shots

Broken windows, resulting from B-B shot, were reported by two different construction project owners Friday to the San Rafael Police department and the Marin County Sheriff's office.

The A. Von Rotz Co. of 40 Greenfield Avenue, San Anselmo, reported a B-B hole in a sliding glass door panel at a construction site at 84 Crestwood Drive, San Rafael. Damage was estimated at $45.

The Baches Construction Co., 74 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, reported several broken windows at a construction site on 5 Dutch Valley Lane, Sleepy Hollow. Two air vents were also kicked out of their foundations by the vandals.

Supervisors Due Two Pleas On Bodega Nuclear Plant

Two pleas for action concerning the proposed Bodega Bay nuclear plant will be heard tomorrow by Marin County Supervisors.

Frank C. Schickel of San Francisco, in a letter to the board, asks for passage of an ordinance which would require the labeling of all milk products as to the county of origin. Since Marin and Sonoma counties are major producers of milk for the Bay Area, Schickel says dairy products should be checked for radioactivity and marked so that "if we, as parents, want to run the risk of contaminated milk, we will know of it."

He asks the board to urge the state legislature to adopt regulations for the control of milk produced in the area, should the atomic reactor be installed.

Mae R. Lebman of Lagunitas asks the board to protest construction of the plant. The Pacific Gas and Electric Co., developers of the project, "has no sense of responsibility," she writes, and is creating a "Frankenstein monster which could destroy natural habitat."

Requests from County Coroner Frank J. Keaton for office space and parking spaces at the San Rafael courthouse will also be considered by the board. According to County Administrator Alan Bruce, who will be on vacation when the board meets, a room in the district attorney's office may be remodeled for the coroner's use at a cost of $1,500.

The board will meet at 9 a.m. in the Civic Center. Planning and public works matters will be heard at 1:30 p.m.

Muir Woods Unit Is Unhappy Over Garbage Service

Members of the Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. agreed Friday night that garbage service in their area is "unsatisfactory."

Gerritt Orton, association president, said the group is going to study the possibility of changing garbage companies. At present, the area is served by the Mill Valley Garbage Co.

"The bi-weekly service is unsatisfactory and we think the rate is high," Orton said.

The association also set Sept. 28 and 29 as the dates for its annual mountain fair at its clubhouse, above Mill Valley.

Orton said Ridge Avenue, the road to the clubhouse from Panoramic Highway, will be repaired. Those served by the road will pay for the project.

On Attack Transport

AN AMAZING NEW GARDEN DISCOVERY

MICRONIZED IRON FOR GREEN, STRONG PLANTS·LAWNS·SHRUBS·FLOWERS·TREES·VEGETABLES

69c 4 oz. 1.89 1-lb.

Green Garde provides iron!

Everything that grows needs iron, but plants and lawns, trees and shrubs need iron in a form they can use. That's why Green Garde, with 25% micronized iron is such an amazing discovery! Here for the first time is micronized iron.

Your entire garden will be greener within seven days. There's never been anything like Green Garde before. It's completely new, completely safe...and it gives you guaranteed results.

Completely Safe...All Soils

Because Green Garde is a micronized iron product it cannot burn or harm your plants of garden. You can't overfeed with Green Garde. Green Garde works in most types of acidic or alkaline soils.

Indoors or outdoors

Green Garde works equally well either indoors or outdoors. Almost anything that grows, grows faster, greener, and stronger with Green Garde.

New life...new growth

Not only do you see immediate life coming into the leaves of your plants, but within days you see new shoots and growth. Even when the leaves have turned a bright yellow from chlorosis (Iron starvation) Green Garde will bring them back to a full rich green, and make the plant strong and healthy.

Easy to use

You can apply Green Garde dry, as is or mix with fertilizer or any inert material, or as a cover spray through an open nozzle sprayer with agitator and minimum 1/8 inch nozzle opening. Green Garde is so concentrated that it will cover an enormous area, and supply enough natural iron to keep all your garden healthy and green. One pound of Green Garde will treat 1000 square feet of lawn. In all soils Green Garde with micronized iron goes to work immediately because it's refined to 50 million particles per square inch.
